DEDICATION

When he came in 1954 he was "the new Superintendent of Proviso Township High School," for Proviso West was still only a dream. The multitudinous responsibilities for shaping that dream into a reality of glass and brick were mainly his. But it was not until November, 1958, that the official dedication of Proviso West High School made him the superintendent of two schools—one established for half a century—the other evolving under his watchful guidance from month to month.

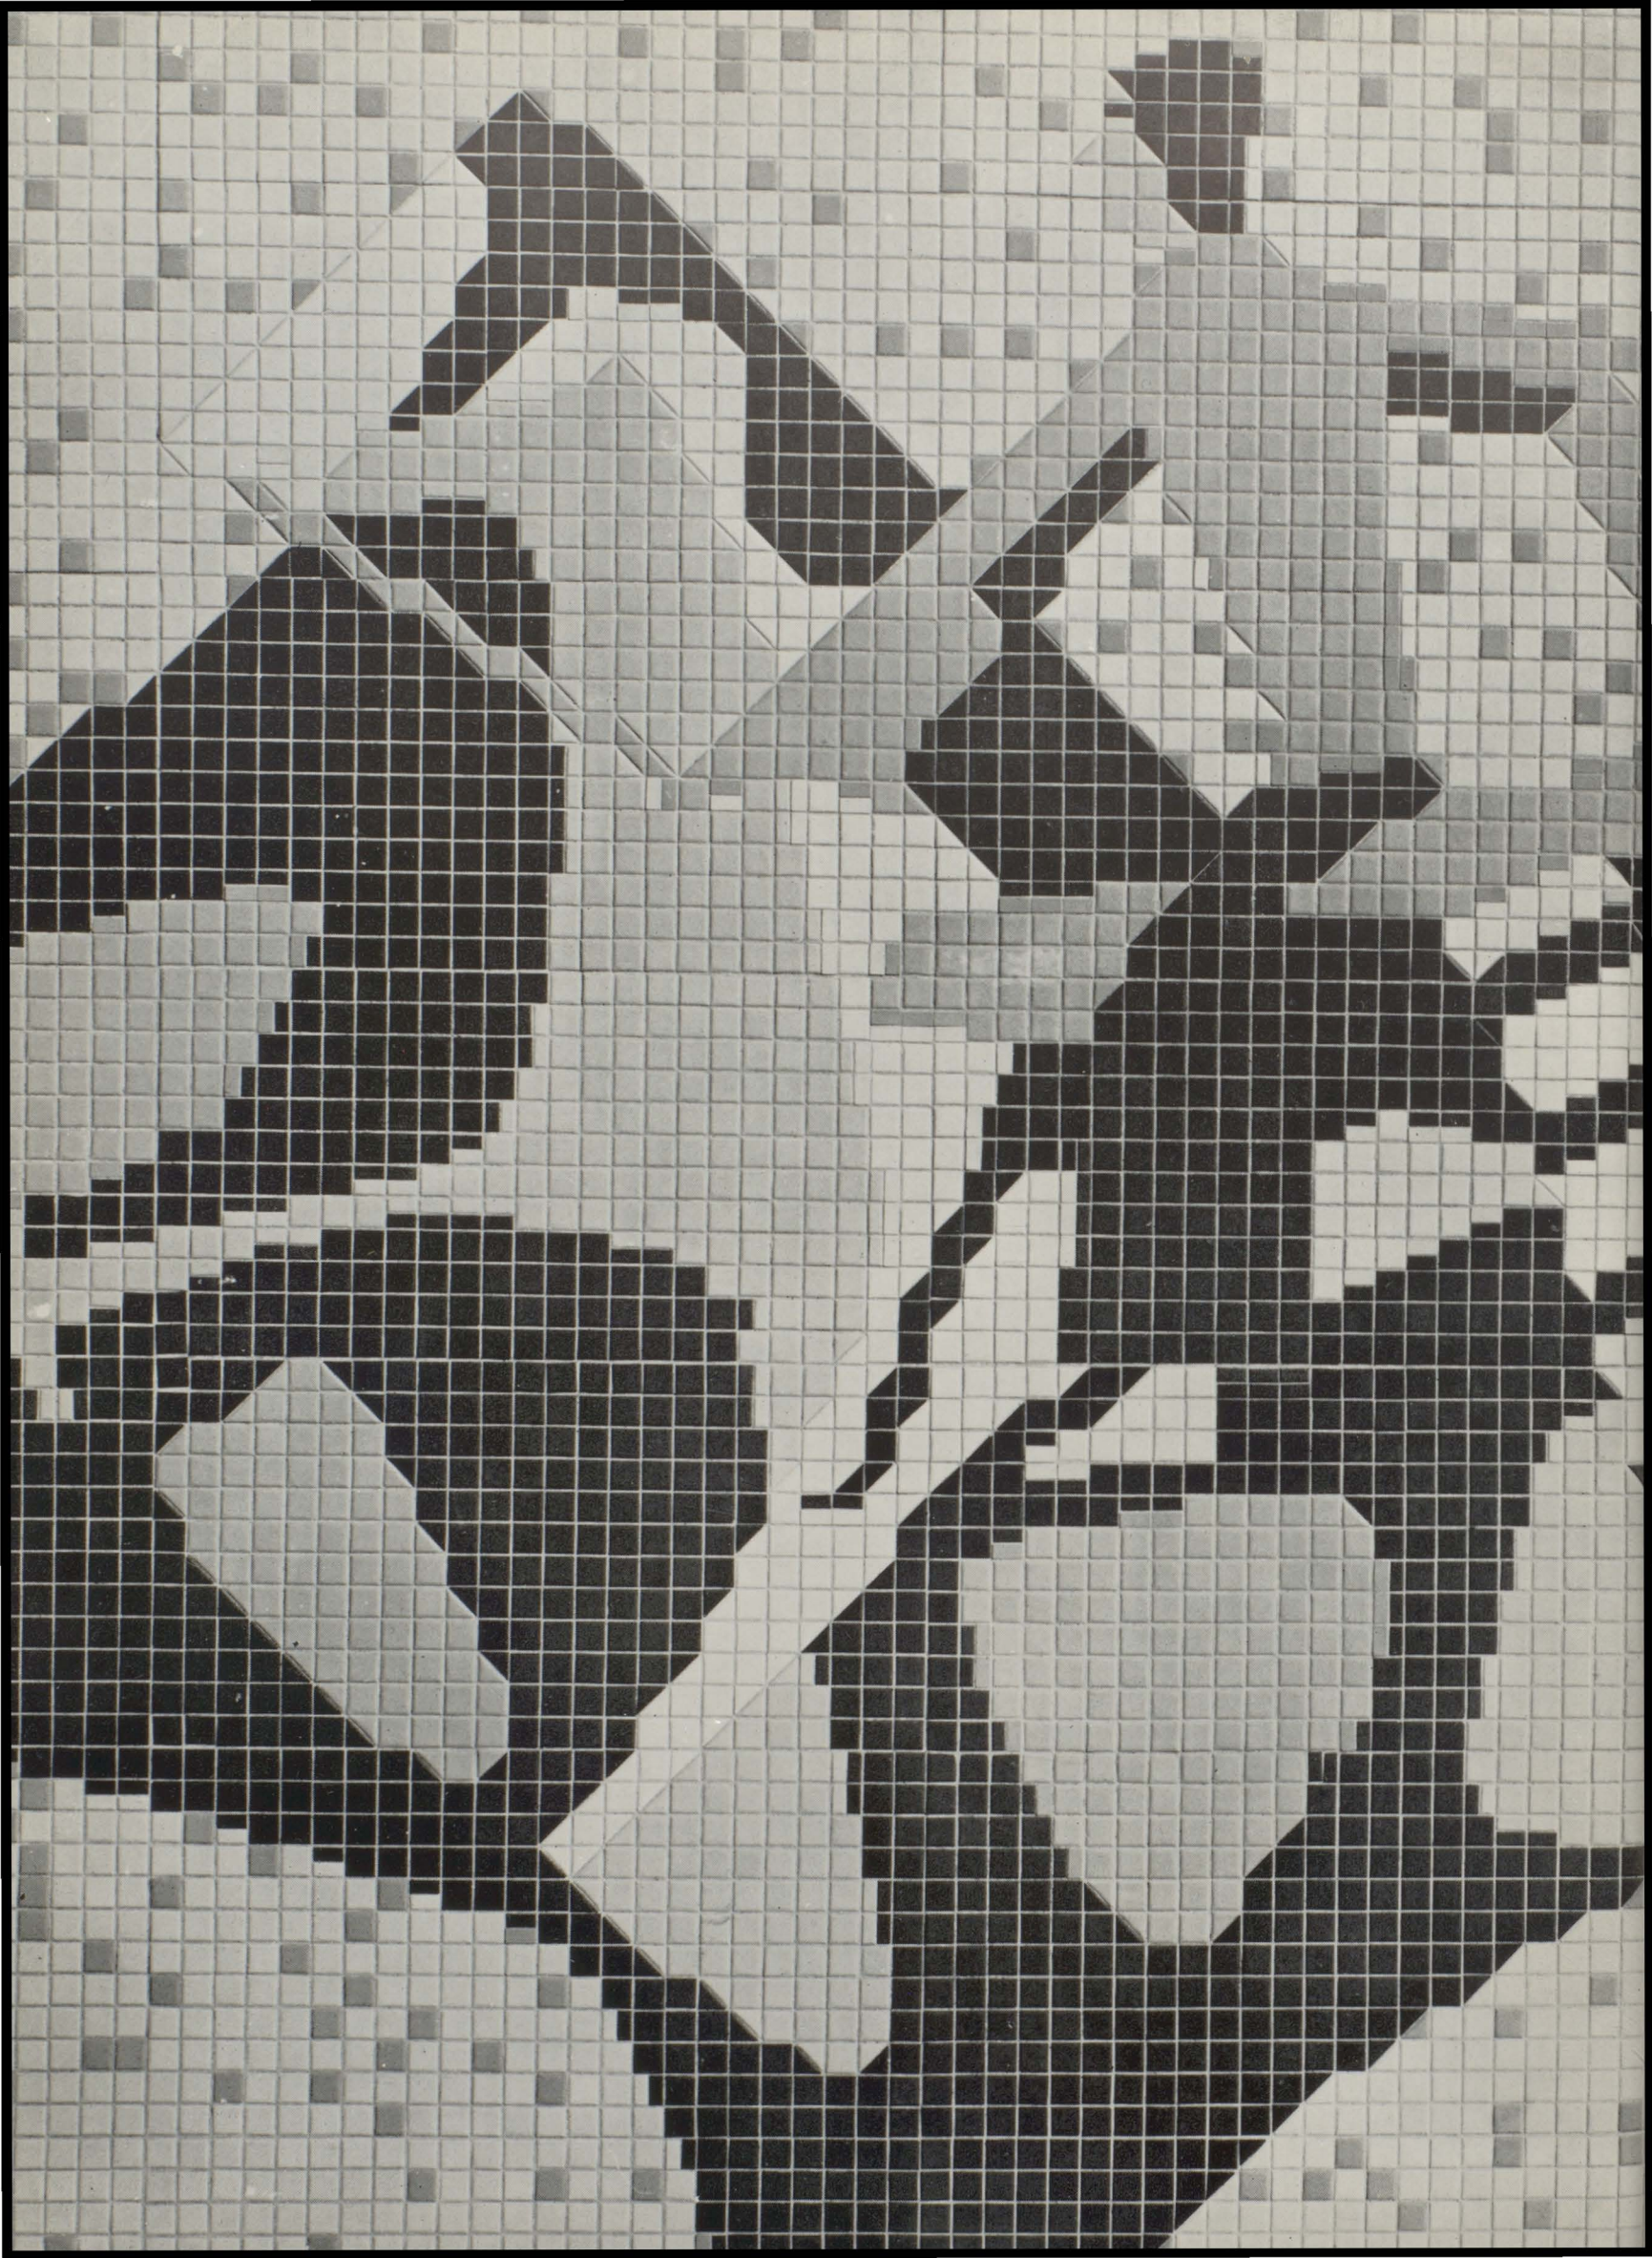

Seven years have passed and Proviso West is no longer a school in the process of becoming. He has seen it grow into a vital, functioning entity.

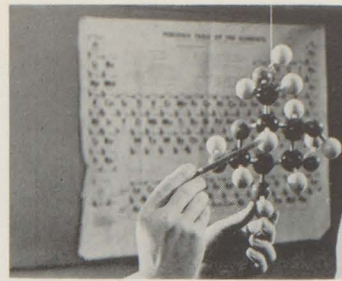

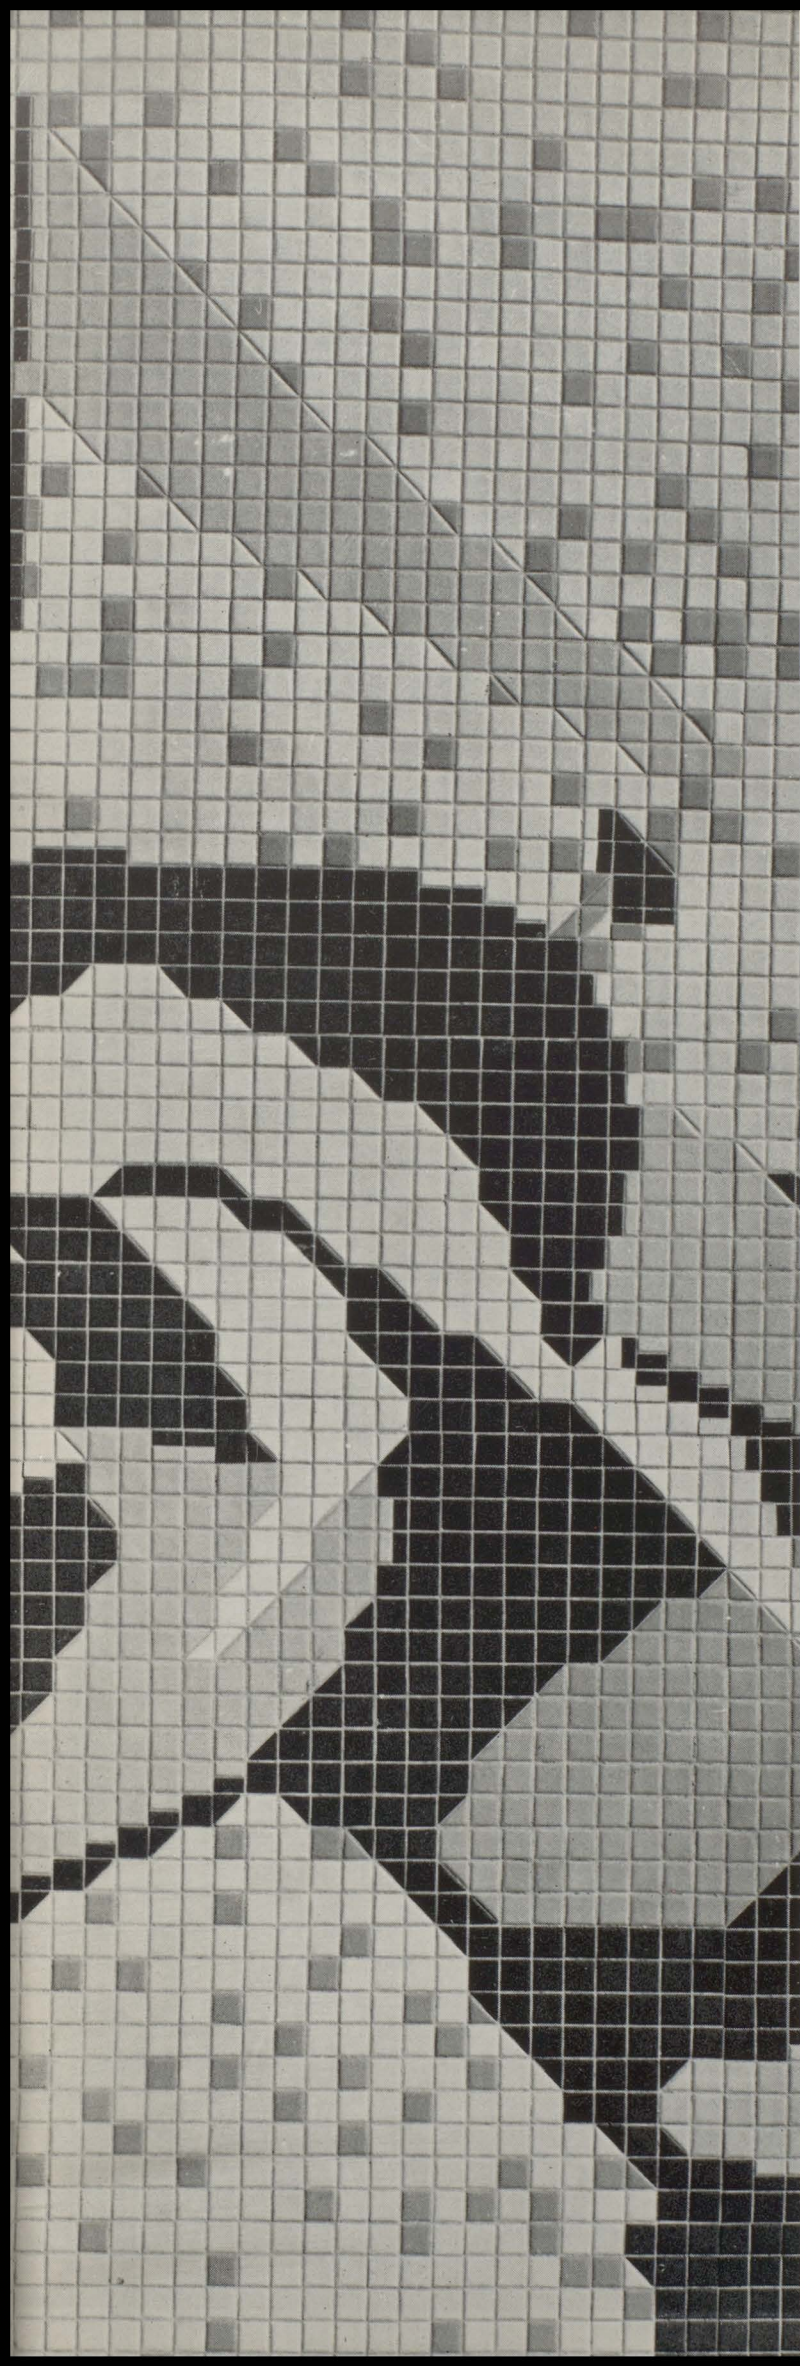

Retiring this year, he turns his attention to new interests and responsibilities; and though others will guide West's development in the years ahead, he was the one who determined the character of its beginnings.

No Shoving, No Teasing, No Upperclassmen! Freshmen Relish Their Day

Which building goes
with which letter?
That's another problem—
one of many you must face and overcome—
but everyone learns.

Soon there will be time to write themes between classes, and watch as fly-sized men skim the face of the rising fieldhouse. You'll grow accustomed to having your hair wet, the smell of burning sulphur, or maybe burning cookies in home ec.
Sunny summers and blustry winters, day after day, soon West will become your way of life.

Utilizing his artistic abilities, Mr. McCleary pounds home the names and locations of the various buildings for bewildered Freshmen.

Lost in chatter and laughter after their first assembly, Freshmen ignore the friendly welcome left by absent upperclassmen.

Freshmen plunge into an ominous thing — West.

False fears are soon replaced by real ones. The locker won't work? E building disappeared?

Take heart and read the signs. West will grow with you.

Kneeling by her locker, a Freshman prays the magic numbers 23-32-16 will open the door.

LBJ to Cross Country— World and School Affairs Intermingle in West's Mind

For the Chinese this was the Year of the Ox, but West students will remember the time by various other names.

Some will recall it as the year of the Beatles. For the politically minded it was the year of LBJ and AU H₂O as Conservative and Liberal students clashed. It seemed to be a year for giants to meet their waterloos as Nikita Khrushchev and Yogi Berra fell in the same week.

West students kept one eye on half-completed floats, the other on the tensions in Viet Nam and the Congo.

But despite the fast pace of this eventful year, brief repose could be found in West's gym as students Frugged, Swam, Watusied to such memorable melodies as "Chug-a-lug," "Leader of the Pack," and "Baby Love."

The inevitable occurred as smiling, victorious Liberal, Mary Schuerman, encountered West's mourning Conservative, Barbara Wilcox.

The Clunk of Quarters Signals The Start and Finish of West's Hectic Daily Routine

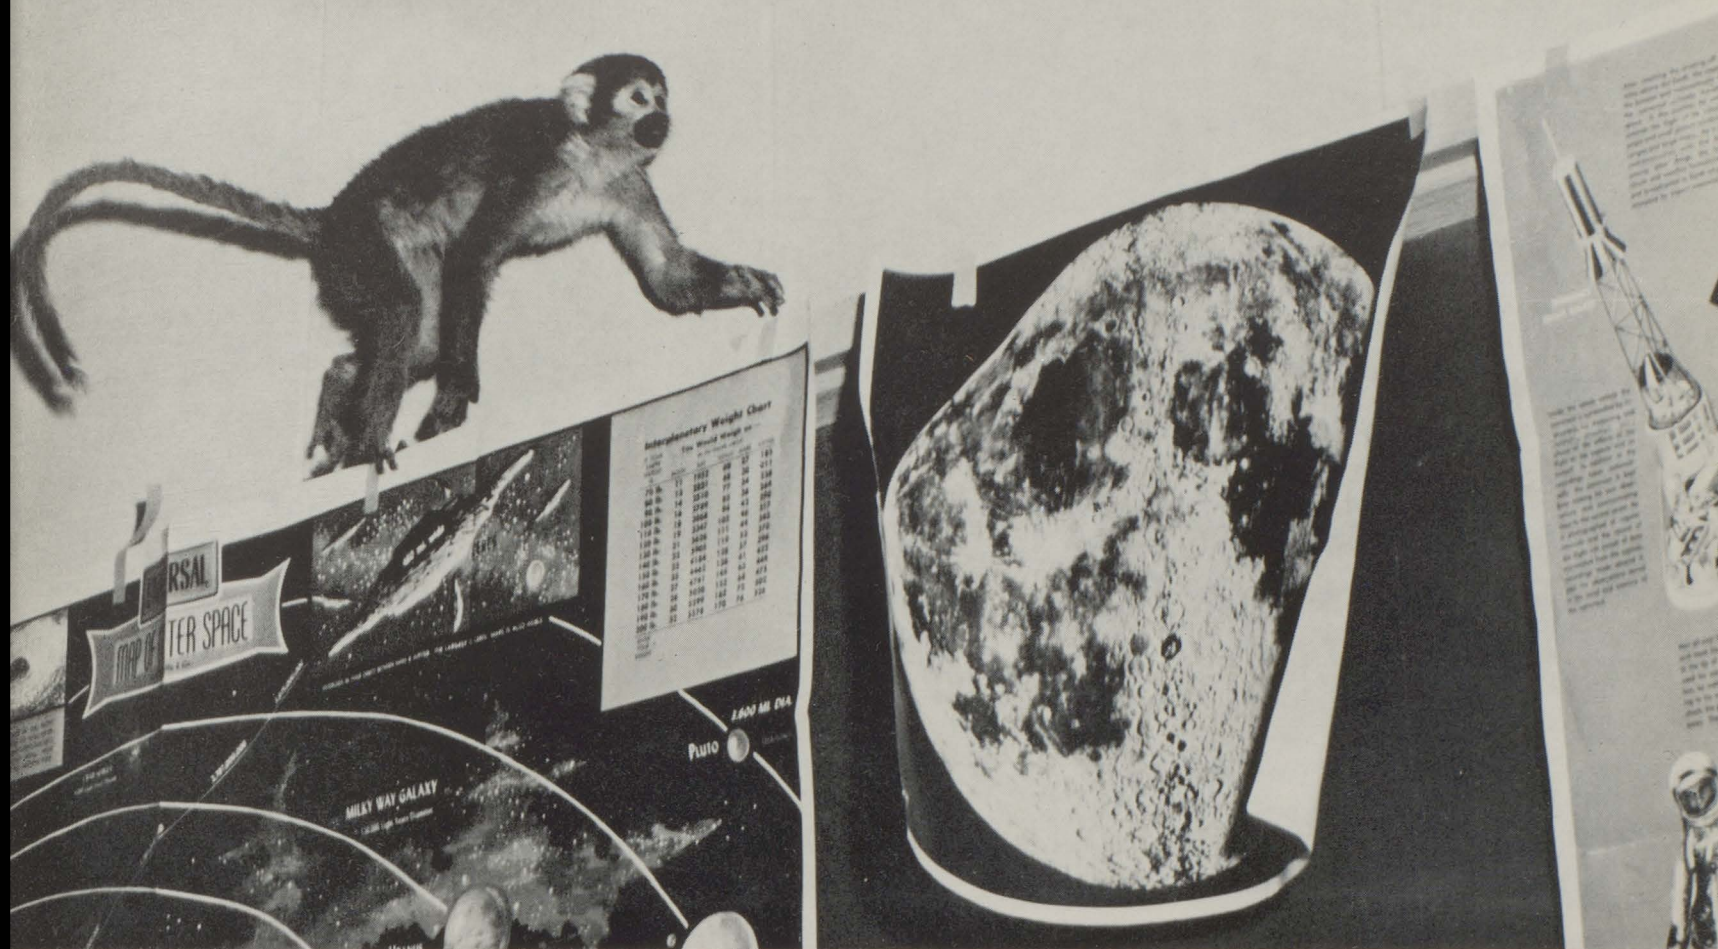

"It isn't my fault I only have 24 pennies!" wails a frantic miss as she and her fellow students tramp up the stairs of a Bluebird bus. By the end of the trip notes have been scrawled, eyelids propped open, and minds are resigned to the task of cramming and grinding in the day ahead. But the lights of E and A buildings lift the cloud of doom and a friend's "Good morning" doesn't sound hypocritical. The high school games are played with vim and vigor—"the lunch crunch" the "English answer fake"—crucial sounds in the symphony of West's daily routine.

Mr. Stubbs Marks Seventh Year as Head of West

His quiet, book-lined office has large windows looking across the mall's pleasant vista, but his door is rarely closed upon the busy comings and goings of the main office just outside. Across that threshold all day long those concerned bring their problems and perplexities to the soft-voiced, smiling man who, for forty years, has made the problems of education in Proviso Township his own. In the beginning, back in 1925, Mr. Stubbs was a teacher of history, later a boys' counselor and director of the first evening school at Proviso East. For the past seven years he has concerned himself exclusively with Proviso West's development.

West has had no other Principal. In 1958, as new assistant Superintendent and Principal, he watched West's first students walk a bit shyly down the shining new corridors. Succeeding years have brought additional faculty and students, more class rooms, and a steadily increasing load of administrative responsibility. If in the near future, Mr. Stubbs decides to turn his attention to the less strenuous activities of retirement, he will leave behind a cumulative achievement of which any man might be proud.

Board Awaits Completion of Proviso's New Fieldhouse

Once a month lights burned late in the darkly panelled board room at Proviso East where seven men met to guide the policies and determine the future of both Proviso East and West. Elected for three-year terms, two members are elected during any given year, followed by two the next year, and three the following year to provide continuity.

The construction of the new field house was an important aspect of this year's Board activities, but perhaps the chief problem before the group was choosing a successor to retiring Superintendent Leroy J. Knoepfel. Though the Board was responsible for school operation, the providing of funds and the development of plans for future expansion, it worked through the superintendent whom it employed. The superintendent is directly responsible to the Board and through them to the citizens of District 209.

September brought the first excavations for the new fieldhouse.

New Program Cards Initiate Efficient Scheduling

This year West produced its own weight in paperwork or so Mr. Vallicelli must have believed by the end of his day. As Administrative Assistant he co-ordinated mounds of forms, bulletins, and schedules until somehow West passed efficiently through another year. This did not come about accidentally. It was the result of planning and the initiation of new policies. The white program card all students received this summer came from Mr. Vallicelli's desk. This card enabled the clerical staff to detect errors in schedules before the first mad day of school.

Breaking the routine of his office day, Mr. Vallicelli could often be seen watching his son, Jim, lap West's track field. Even farther from the bustle of West are the Wisconsin ponds where Mr. Vallicelli and some of the Proviso staff spent pleasant weekends ice fishing.

Substituting for Mr. Stubbs, Mr. Vallicelli commends medal winners.

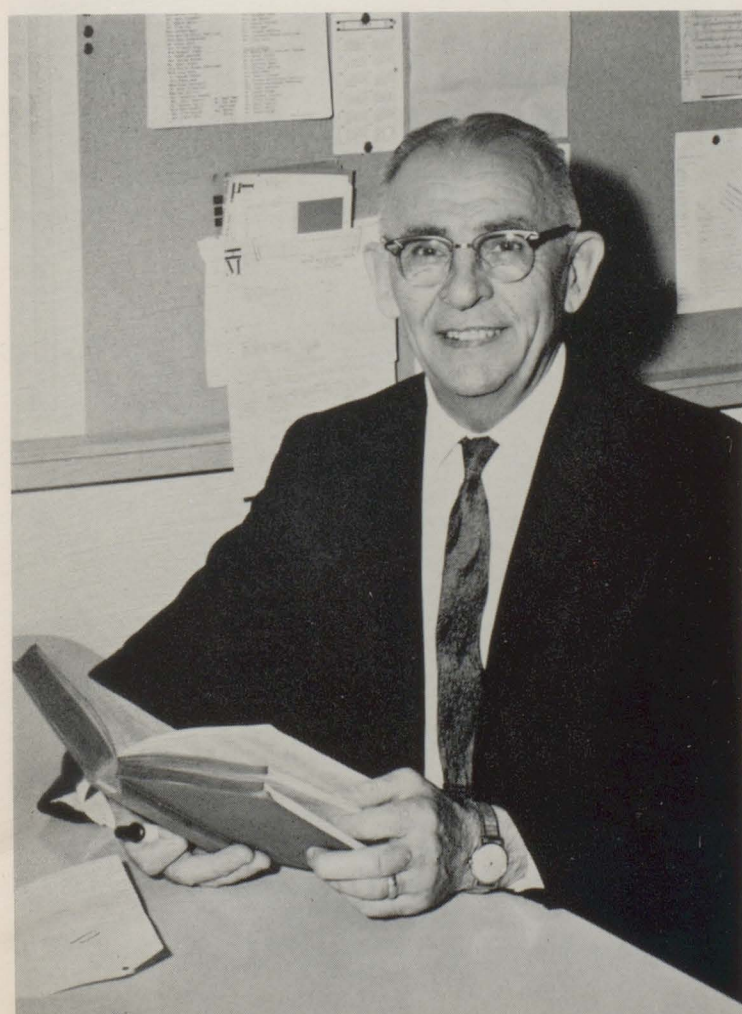

Experience Provides New Answers to Old Questions

Ice skating with his daughter in Broadview and spending hours recruiting new teachers for Proviso West, Dr. Hoover filled his busy days. His challenging new position as Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Instruction required wide experience and knowledge. Dr. Hoover qualified with a past record demonstrating great versatility. He taught in 11 colleges, and was principal of not only Proviso East, but also five other high schools.

He earned his Bachelor of Science degree at Winona State Teachers College, his Master of Science degree at Kansas State Teachers College, and his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Hoover spends his spare moments with his wife and daughter. They enjoy sports together, and Dr. Hoover even takes his turn as skating instructor for his family at a nearby pond. Dr. Hoover enjoys both his hobbies and schoolwork, especially his work with students this year.

ACT, PSAT, and Betty Crocker —the Strange Code of Mr. Bos

The opening of Proviso West brought numerous changes in the administration of District 209. Among them was the appointment of a Director of Testing who would supervise and synchronize the testing programs for both schools. Mr. Edward Bos was accordingly selected for this position in 1958—a position which he has held ever since. During the previous 13 years Mr. Bos was a member of the science department at Proviso East. His interest and ability in his field were recognized when he was elected President of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers in 1957.

Retiring this year he plans to turn his attention to less demanding activities than the scheduling and recording of everything from ACT, PSAT, Otis Mental Ability to the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award Test.

Odd Hours or Off Season, Education Continues at West

Long after the 3:25 bell sent students and teachers streaming from the building, Dr. Widergren remained to ponder the problems of his office. As Director of Continuing Education for Proviso Township, his primary duty was the organization and direction of night school classes. Although his main tasks remain essentially the same, each year brings a change in emphasis. Since the drop-out problem became increasingly important recently, Dr. Widergren's office moved to meet the need. To his satisfaction the number of high school drop-outs returning to school increased. A second program initiated this year involved the training of some 45 welfare recipients. Through correct placing and aid, these people learned to help themselves.

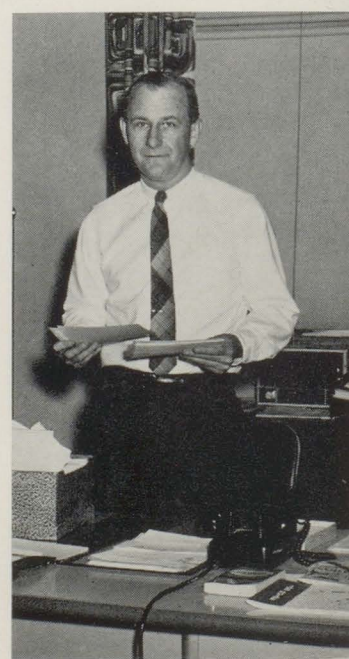

Dr. Widergren brings to this demanding job a B.A. degree from Beloit College, an M.A. from the University of Iowa, and his Ed. D. from Wyoming.

Hair-dos to Assemblies Dean's Duties Are Varied

The duties of Dean of Students were shared this year for the first time by Mr. Gusloff and Mr. Vandevender. But, though their positions were new, their understanding of West and its problems was soundly based on previous experience. Mr. Gusloff served last year as assistant to former Dean Hubert A. Pitt and as Dean-Counselor of West students in summer school. Mr. Vandevender was Junior boy's Counselor. Attendance, discipline, including the routine policing of hair-dos and shirt-tails, and overall supervision of assemblies, coke hours, fun nights, and other extra-curricular activities, were part of the Deans' responsibilities. In addition they were counselors for a small number of students.

Among Mr. Vandevender's particular responsibilities was the supervision of Senior class functions. Although his first love is the country, Mr. Vandevender now calls the western suburbs his home. Outside the atmosphere of D-112, Mr. Gusloff pursues such varied activities as water skiing and conducting a Sunday School class.

Prints by modern Japanese print-makers, paintings by a variety of young Illinois artists, and examples of industrial and advertising design by Chicago professionals were included among the monthly exhibits arranged by West's Art Department this year. The exhibits, housed in the attractive and carefully lighted gallery in A building, proved both a challenge and an inspiration to West's more than 300 art students. That these students availed themselves of the almost unlimited opportunities for exploration of materials and techniques provided in the big, sunny studios, was demonstrated by variety and quantity of work displayed throughout the year—a display climaxed by the Spring Art Show.

Data Processing Techniques Taught in Business Course

The forty Senior girls who were members of West's first office machines course this year learned that being handy with a pencil and shorthand pad and reasonably adept at the typewriter is not all that is required of modern business students. Equipment which is constantly being developed to increase the speed and efficiency of most office procedures is forcing stenographers to become engineers as well. Two IBM card punch machines and eight IBM typewriters with simulated key punch keyboards made it possible for the new class to receive practical instruction as card punch operators. Also included was instruction in the operation of key-driven and rotary calculators. The more familiar beginning courses in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping were not neglected, however, as a substantial enrollment of some 1700 students indicated. In addition, Distributive Education under the direction of Mr. Gable provided eighteen students with on-the-job experience in selling.

Mr. Stanley's instructions are simple and clear. It's following them that presents a problem to the ambitious beginning typing students.

Miss Wilson fulfills the student's desire—a long-awaited early excuse.

Counselors "Sign Their Life Away" for Tardies, Absentees

Tardy again? See your counselor! Want an early excusal? See your counselor! Perhaps you just want to get something off your chest? Again, see your counselor. These busy men and women provided the badly needed link between home and school. Troubled parents as well as students found their advice helpful.

But the counselors were not only aids in time of worry. They helped schedule programs for four years, and worked on fitting in special calculus, fourth year Latin, and remedial English classes. Information about vocations and interviews with college representatives helped lay the cornerstone for a solid future at work in the office or studying in a university.

Life outside the halls of West also interested counselors. They showed films about social problems and lectured about getting along with others. The counselors' goal was to perform a special magic—to transform an uncertain freshman into a well-educated, informed, and secure citizen.

Where does a counselor go with his problems? Mr. Thormahlen and Mr. Walker provide the answer with an informal exchange of ideas.

New Courses, Fresh Approach Enliven English in 1965

"Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order!" Facility in parliamentary procedure will be second nature for West students hereafter, since a first for the English Department this year was the redesigning of the course of study to give all Sophomores an entire semester of training in oral communication. Also for the first time this year, a course in Humanities was opened to Seniors which provided an integrated historical approach to art, music, and literature. Another "new look," which excited the interest of a steady succession of visitors, was given to West's entire approach to English instruction by the expansion of team teaching. This year eight Freshman, six Senior, four Junior, and two Sophomore classes worked under teams of two or three instructors who varied the learning situation to include not only large lecture groups of eighty or more but also large teacher-led discussion groups and very small discussion sections in which the teacher listened but did not take part.

An increasingly vital part of English instruction at West this year was the much wider use of classroom sets of paperback books as the basis for depth study of a few novels rather than the unsupervised reading of a wide variety of books for book reports.

Needles thrust high, Mrs. Heiser makes casting on look easy!

A fuzzy, white, hand-knit cardigan; a beautiful, hand-hooked rug; crunchy cookies; luscious steaks — these were all routine accomplishments of Proviso West's home economics students. Seven hundred girls spent at least an hour per day in classes where expert teaching was provided, not only in sewing and cooking, but also in home planning and family living. Should children be spanked? How do you deal with a temper tantrum? How can a workable budget be arranged? These problems were studied in the home economics classes. This year a new course, needlecrafts, was added to the many other classes offered in the department. In this class, girls learned the basic A-B-Cs of knitting and were able to knit mittens and scarves with vivid, colorful designs. All in all, the Home Economics Department helped the wives and mothers of tomorrow plan for full, rich lives in their homes and communities.

Taxidermist, Beautician In Diversified Department

Colored slides and coordinated tapes introduced this year's general shop students to their course. Throughout the year, more orientation tapes made by the teachers completed a departmental series which covered the 15 courses offered in the industrial arts program. A tape and slide study of a day's activity showed this year's 946 students busily engaged in projects ranging from making simple crystal radio sets to overhauling cars in the auto shop, while in the drafting rooms, boys practiced basic designing and drafting techniques by making tables and cabinets.

The Diversified Occupations Program expanded to 26 students this year under the direction of Mr. Darrell Biggs, Coordinator. He selected and counseled upperclassmen for this apprentice program. Learning and earning on the job, students worked in the afternoons after related classes in the mornings. Among trainees this year were a model, baker, beautician, draftsman, and the only apprentice taxidermist in the United States.

American Tongues Go Foreign

Bonjour! Buenos dias! Guten Tag! Zgpachyume! Heus! Greetings in French, Spanish, German, Russian, and Latin echoed this year in Proviso West's Tower of "Babble" — second floor of building D. Twelve language teachers helped build brotherhood among the 1250 students enrolled. All language teachers were either natives or had studied abroad in the country they represented.

Instead of laboring over pages of verb conjugations and neuter nouns, beginning students profited from the newly installed ALM sequence. In these Audio-Lingual classes, tapes and records played to emphasize learning by repetition. Students donned earphones at the library's 20 listening posts to practice listening to natives speak.

Thus an expanded department overcame the ocean's expanse, and brought foreign countries closer to West.

Numbers Count in the Young Minds of Math Students

"Sliding" through algebra, geometry, and math courses was as easy as "pi" for students this year. Equipped with slide rules to find the square root of 12.9 and compasses to draw angles of 42 degrees, mathematical geniuses at West took advantage of advanced methods and new concepts.

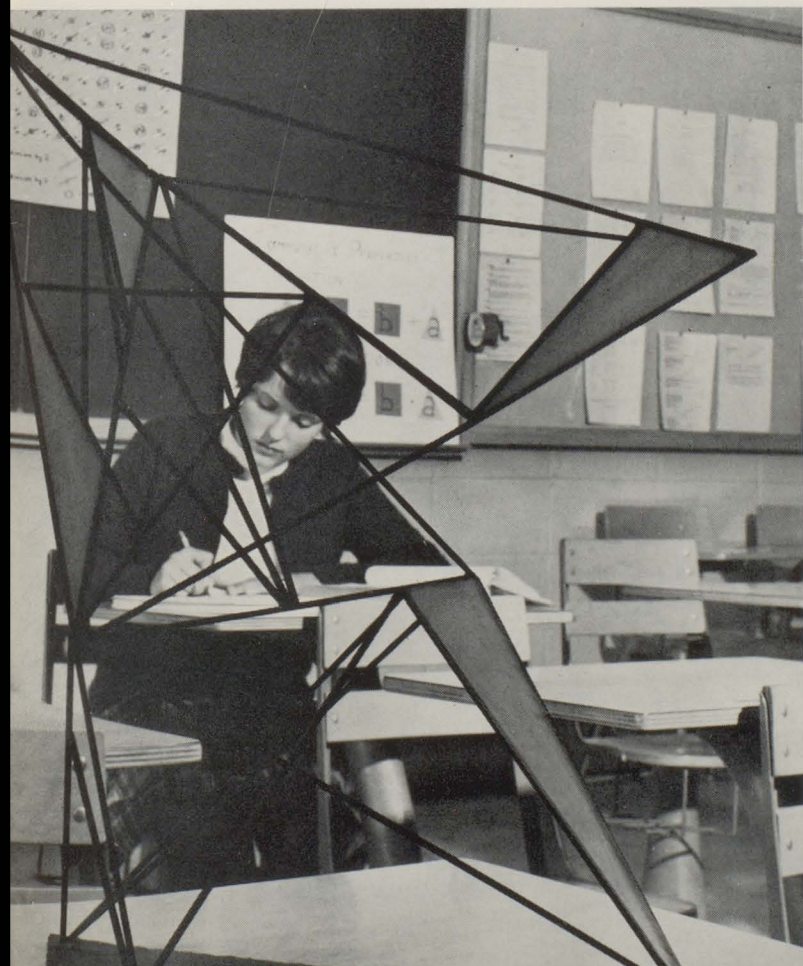

With the prospect of two new courses — Computer Techniques, and unified Trigonometry and College Algebra — to be taught next year, elementary students learned the quadratic function while advanced number-minded students tackled sines and cosines.

Mr. William Walsh, one of three authors of an Algebra I textbook, prepared to take over the duties of Mr. Vernon Kent as Department Head. This was Mr. Kent's last year at West. His retirement marked the end of forty years of teaching mathematics.

Looking forward to his retirement vacation in Mexico, Mr. Kent spends his free time studying Spanish as well as planning math courses.

Choruses, Orchestra Flourish Under Three New Directors

Anxious anticipation and whispered discussions characterized West's Music Department this year, as word swept through the grapevine that great changes were in the offing. But all doubts quickly disappeared as students met Miss Susan Sterrett, Mr. Harry Slottag, and Mr. Thomas Parker, the new additions to West's music staff. Together with Department Chairman, Mr. Carroll Simmons, the new faculty members worked for a more unified and dignified music department to meet the needs of an expanding West.

One unifying factor employed by the faculty came in the form of combined concerts and student recitals. New groups such as the Girls' Glee Club, appeared; and the Freshmen Boys' Chorus now found they were the Freshmen Men's Chorus. Despite the changes some things remained the same. Once again singers, violinists, and oboe players alike brought honor to West through participation in the band, orchestra, and chorus state contests.

A knowledge of music theory, music history, and music literature as well as the opportunity to perform, remained the ultimate goals of every member of the Music Department.

Physical Education Program Improved by New Field House

Eight laps around the track of West's new field house will equal a mile, while the center of the six-lane track will provide a hundred-yard straight-away for dashes. Of greater interest to West's more than 3,500 physical education students, however, are the many additional girls' lockers and team lockers for boys, and the added teaching stations which the new building will provide. The added space will permit a higher degree of participation in all team sports as well as an even greater variety of activities, strengthening West's already vigorous curriculum which includes interscholastic competition for boys in ten sports. An imaginative and varied program for girls embraces swimming, team sports, and beginning and advanced dance, while both boys and girls who are unable to participate in the regular classes are provided with a program of restricted activities.

After the first few days of school the novelty disappeared and PE classes passed the deepening excavations for the field house with scarcely a glance.

Biology Turns Green, Yellow

Seven years ago the Russians launched Sputnik I and Proviso West's Science Department hasn't stopped moving since. Old facts have been forged into newer, bolder programs to facilitate the country's growing need for scientists in this space and technological age. The most noticeable changes have come in the field of biology where the words "green" and "yellow" have taken on added meaning. No longer merely colors of the spectrum, the terms designate the two methods of study now employed in the biology classes. While the basic plan of study remains the same, the department shifted to an emphasis on personal participation.

Rain Today? Social Studies Spies on Mother Nature

This year, the Social Studies Department put West on the map — the weather map, that is, as the new weather station reported crucial data to WMAQ radio and CBS and NBC television. Under the direction of Mr. A. R. Jedlicka, the station has encouraged students to take a more active interest in the study of meteorology and climatology, probing the unpredictable ways of nature.

The modern emphasis on the problems of many in a mechanized society brought about a sizeable increase in the number of psychology and sociology classes. These classes, devoted to the understanding of the behavior of the individual, sought to answer the complex questions of man's inner world. Realizing that the study of past civilizations enlightens today's issues, the department continued with its traditional program of varied history and geography courses ranging from Far Eastern to United States History.

Audio-Visual and Library Facilities Enrich Curriculum

The Proviso West Library provided the local headquarters for last-minute cramming and finishing term papers. Students received help from the librarians on everything from deciphering Mr. Dewey's system to the philosophies of Immanuel Kant. Besides fiction and non-fiction, reserve books, pamphlets, magazines, and microfilms were available to assist inquiring minds. Foreign language tapes and records also became increasingly popular as learning supplements. A professional library was open to the faculty for more comprehensive study. Over 10,000 materials circulated among the teachers and students last year.

West's Audio-Visual Department, headed by Mr. Bills, extended into nearly every facet of school life. Over 13,000 audio-visual materials including movies, slides, and overhead projectors were issued this year. The expanding department required and received a new copy room. Included in this addition were color-transparency machines, color lift machines, copy machines, and a new Thermo-fax copier. All of these devices were open for use by any faculty members.

Special Clinics Perfect the Techniques of Perception

More students became better acquainted with Proviso West's special education departments this year, since our school had three blind and two deaf students. These five students attended regular classes and were subject to the same exams as all other students. The only variation in their schedule was private help provided by their specialized teachers instead of study hall. With the help of braille and talking books for the blind and lip reading and sign language for the deaf, the students advanced in all activities.

The Reading Improvement Center and the Speech Clinic aided students desiring additional help in reading comprehension and proper enunciation. The Reading Center was operated on a non-credit basis for any student wishing to improve his reading skills. The Speech Clinic worked to overcome hindering physical defects and helped students speak clearly. Over 150 students per semester took advantage of this department.

Learning to take notes quickly and to form mental pictures of words and ideas as taught in the Reading Center is an important part of reading ability.

" . . . and Gladly Teach"

While students fill their notebooks with scrawled notes, sweating out homework even on nights when a favorite TV program beckons enticingly; teachers, sharing the daily routine of classroom, cafeteria, after school activities and nightly homework, pore over lesson plans preparing the lectures or demonstrations the notes record, marking the papers so laboriously prepared. For, just as an electric current must move between the two poles of a generator, so, through the clutter of books and papers marked in red ink, threading the varied classroom sounds—the quick or hesitant recitation, the sudden burst of laughter, the scraping of chairs, the purr of the film projector—the new idea is suddenly glimpsed, the possibility not yet realized materializes, and the current of learning flickers and sparks between teacher and student.

Band-aids or a Flu Injection, Proviso's Nurses Can Oblige

Open-mouthed students waited in line outside the nurses' office until thermometers popped under their tongues. The nurses, Miss Garramore and Miss Gould, welcomed pupils in their office in A building by asking for out-of-the-room permits and writing cough drop passes.

To start the year off right, the nurses assisted physicians with physical examinations during gym periods. Freshmen received dental and hearing examinations, while all other students took the yearly vision tests. Flu injections, mobile chest x-rays, and blood tests were offered to the faculty and other school personnel. Individual counseling was also given to parents and students.

Clerical work required the nurses to examine health records, to notify parents of defects found in screening programs, and to report to the administration on health services. In fact, from wheel chair rides to detailed, type-written reports, the nurses were ready and waiting to help students, faculty, and personnel.

Clerks Move 'In' Work 'Out'

Scattered throughout the many offices in Proviso West, the secretaries mimeographed announcements, absentee lists, and English tests. They performed the duties necessary to prevent about 4000 students and faculty members from becoming completely confused in the red tape of requisitions and counseling appointments.

The monotony of regulation typing, filing, and shorthand was broken by getting money from petty cash for class floats, processing college applications for seniors, and bringing hot coffee to weary administrators.

The cold, steel IBM machine impersonally records nine weeks' grades which determine freedom or nights of confined study.

Food, Warmth, and Shelter — Tender Loving Care for West

Fear gripped every sandwich behind-the-scenes in the cafeteria. A shiny, metal monster called "The Sandwich Wrapper" threatened to grab it and compact it into a 3 x 5 plastic-enclosed package. This new machine, added to steel ovens and dishwashers, helped the 26 cafeteria matrons feed the West population. Under the direction of Mrs. Accardi, head of both East and West cafeterias, the ladies served a record number of type-A lunches.

When the matrons started baking their new delicacy—mint-lime pie—at 7:30 a. m., the night watchman and maintenance men just started homeward. After long nights of walking down deserted, slick, tiled floors, and arranging desks, they anxiously awaited their "40 winks." The day shift, led by Mr. Reimer, did routine jobs of cleaning and wall-painting. They also performed a new duty—changing letters on the Student Council marquee to announce all the events at Proviso West.

"Just what we need—another building," sigh Mr. Ruehmer and Mr. Werner, thinking in terms of the many added jobs for maintenance crews.

Homecoming, a Hootenanny— "No Business Like Show Business" for Student Council

As the driving force behind West's social and political life, Student Council this year took on a refreshing vigor. While blending old ways with new innovations, it retained the basic tradition of Homecoming with changes in the selection and crowning of the queen to provide more students with an opportunity to partake in the festivities. The weekend which began with a pep assembly and ended on "The Great White Way" left pleasant memories in the minds of students and alumni alike. Continuing the policy of new traditions, Student Council again sponsored fun nights, but added live music to the list of available activities.

Giving gifts to the school and the community has always been a tradition with Student Council. This year's dollars purchased the new marquee for West, as well as gifts for various charities.

The highlight of the year came in January when the Mitchell Trio appeared at West's first Hootenanny. The idea, which began with Student Council President Tom Head, materialized into a sold-out concert by the hard work of numerous Council Committees under the direction of faculty adviser Mr. Donald Wright.

New Traffic Signs—Usherettes

Dressed in their familiar red skirts and white blouses, the Usherettes lined the halls of West for PTA meetings, plays, and choral concerts. Members of this branch of Student Council helped parents find room E165 for teacher conferences and located empty seats for patrons of the Variety Show Olive and Harry. For the first time girls sponsored an East-West get-together with the Proviso East Usherettes. Their goal was a new club, separate from Student Council with its own charter and elected officers.

Metro Goldwyn Girls' League Presents "A Christmas Carol"

Girls' League became a movie industry and chose "Metro-Goldwyn Girls' League" as their theme, basing all activities on movie titles. From the roaring lion of Metro-Goldwyn Mayer came their mascot—a smaller and more practical Kitty. "The Green Years" was the first party of the year, given to welcome freshmen to West. "Fancy Pants," the fall fashion show, gave the girls of Proviso West a view of styles.

"A Bundle of Joy," the service project, raised over $200, which Girls' League used to adopt a foster child. This was made possible by the appetites of the students who eagerly bought the "bundles" of cookies, cake, and candy after school.

The Girls' League Christmas party, "A Christmas Carol," featured a visit from Santa Claus and a skit in which the renowned Scrooge was visited by the three ghosts.

On March sixth, "The Tender Trap" gave young ladies a chance to capture the beau of their dreams. The Gents provided the music for the annual Sock Hop.

Jet Age Santas in Red Blazers Extend Key Club Services

A student needing a copy of the Scarlet Letter or the Warren Report found either one right at hand this year at Key Club's newest service project, the book store. Open during all five lunch periods, it provided an enticing selection of paperbacks for study and leisure reading. Wearing their new red blazers, the forty-two members also ushered and worked coat checks at school affairs.

In addition to the traditional Derby Sale and Car Wash, Key Club sponsored a Soap Drive for the Dixon State School and assisted the Kiwanis Clubs during Pancake Day and the Peanut Sale. Still another project found members wheeling patients to church at Wesley Memorial Hospital. In March the boys illustrated their acting ability in the Club Blackouts, highlighted by an over-sized Easter bunny throwing an egg in Gary Davis' face. Mr. De Haven, Mr. Waters, and Mr. Thormahlen guided the club's activities.

From Hillside to Nicaragua Scholastic Ability is Honored

This year 150 worthy students were inducted into the Proviso West chapter of the National Honor Society. These students showed outstanding qualities of service, leadership, and character. They were in the upper quarter of their class and were approved by their teachers. The National Honor Society was started in 1921 and was founded by the National Association of Secondary-School Principals. The object of this organization is stated in its constitution: "To create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character . . ."

Proviso West's chapter is one of over 8,500 National Honor Society chapters in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and in all of the United States' territories and possessions. There are also chapters in Argentina, England, Formosa, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the Philippines, Mexico, Nicaragua, Spain, Thailand, and Turkey. The National Honor Society's headquarters is in Washington, D.C. Not only being an honorary society, NHS during the last 14 years, has provided scholarships and awards to outstanding prospective college students.

Modern Ideas Influence Bold New Mural Design

Deadlines and late hours molded a Fall crew of eager workers into the frantic Mural Staff of Spring, as pressures etched lines of thought on slightly weary faces. Always suppressing the urge to scream, the staff channelled their emotions into the constructive activity of turning out the largest book in West's history.

Building this year's book around the theme "West," the staff attempted to capture the freshness of a young school in a bold cover design, layout and copy. Not ignoring the more practical side of publication, dedicated board members armed with last year's book invaded Freshman home-rooms during XO periods in an effort to sell more books.

Taking time out from the routine, members of the Mural staff participated in various educational trips and programs throughout the year. All eight members of the board piled into the school station wagon at 6 a. m. and drove miles through the rain to the U. of I. campus at Urbana. Here, members learned the techniques of good yearbook production from experts. Under the competent leadership of Editor-in-chief Dietlind Radtke and Adviser Mrs. Jessie Veach, the Mural staff survived a year of hard labor.

Quantity With Quality Signifies Profile Diligence and Ability

Working during study halls, after school, and on weekends, the Profile staff again struggled to meet the demands of publishing an eight-page weekly. Under the guidance of Mr. Arthur Levin, the staff also managed to turn out annual special editions such as the Education, Brotherhood, Safety, and Christmas issues. Through the special efforts of an understanding adviser, a hard-working staff, a willing printer and an editor with nerves of steel, the Profile also published a record shattering 44 pages at Christmas.

Bringing honor to West on many occasions, the Profile earned coveted press awards including the National Scholastic Press Association All-American Award and the Quill and Scroll's George H. Gallup Award.

Lettermen Spell Service and Fun with Programs, 'Beach Party'

The Proviso "P" popped up this year wherever Lettermen offered their services. White sweated boys sold programs at football games and ushered for school events. The Lettermen-sponsored Faculty-Senior basketball game proved the teachers victorious. Half-time entertainment offered the Bom-Bon Corps as female physical education teachers donned blue and orange uniforms and spoofed the traditional Pom-Pon Corps.

Trading their letter sweaters for sweatshirts and levis, Lettermen scooped up their "woodies" and surfed on the calm waves of music by the Thunderbirds at "Beach Party" — the annual GAA-Lettermen Dance, April third. President Rich Parkhurst, Vice-president Dennis Jeck, and Secretary-Treasurer Craig Grant led this year's activities.

"Best in the Midwest" Cheerleaders Cop Top Trophy

Winded from kicks and splits and yells of "Go Team!" the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders returned from their summer camp in Wisconsin where they won a first place team trophy and two individual trophies. Pausing only long enough to display their awards and catch their breath, the cheerleaders quickly organized a "hen session" and pooled their ideas for new cheers. They spoofed TV commercials and "cheerleading through the ages" to help instill school spirit. In November the girls hosted cheerleaders of surrounding schools for an all-day clinic.

Racket Squad Jargon Echoes For Sports "Oo-ah, Oo-ah"

Bus passes, sore throats, permission slips, and awards assemblies were all routine to Racket Squad's 300 enthusiastic members. This year, in addition to the usual Squad-sponsored activities, the girls set the ground work for a synchronized cheer block to be initiated next year. This special group would work with cards or mittens forming pictures and spelling out cheers for football and basketball games.

Racket Squad members faithfully backed Proviso's winning and losing teams from cross-country to basketball. In the fall, Racket Squad, in cooperation with the cheerleaders, sponsored a series of eight joint workshops to reacquaint old and new members with traditional cheers.

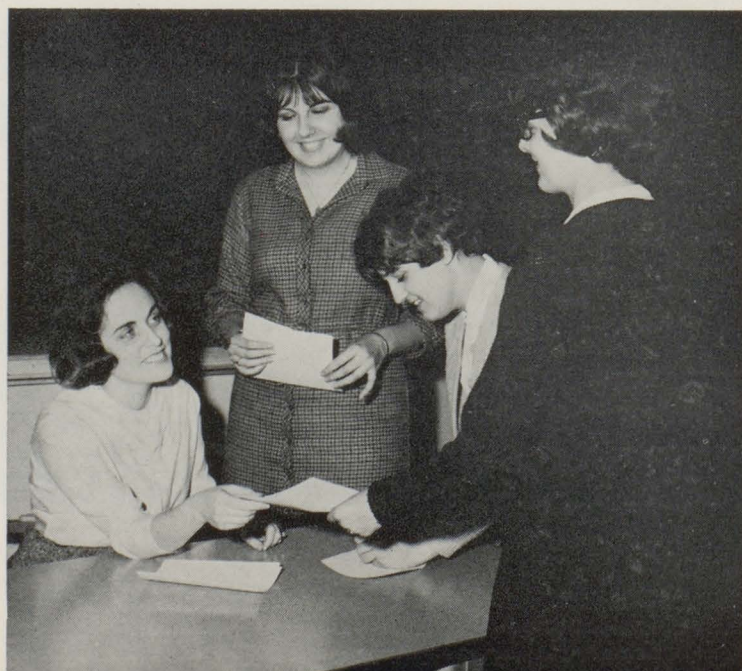

With a powerful cheer, excited spectators encourage the basketball to fall through the hoop for two precious points which may mean victory.

Sports Activities Burn Off Taffy Apple Calories

Combining work with play, members of the Girls' Athletic Association strove to improve their skills in such sports as tennis, bowling, and fencing, while having fun. Scheduling sports according to seasons, the sponsor Miss Harvey tried to satisfy the wide interests of the members.

Members worked for participation points by being active after school. Two points were chalked up for each hour of sports activity. Proud girls with twenty points wore GAA pins. Meeting new girls was part of the routine as members traveled to other Northern Illinois schools for playdays.

Social activities included an eighth-grade get-together, a Fun 'n Fizz party, a dance with the Lettermen, and a Christmas party complete with carols and fancy cookies.

"Fish Out of Water" in Aquatic Staff Share Swimming Ability

Sprouting fins would not surprise members of Aquatic Staff, because these Proviso West "fish" spent many hours in the pool this year. The club boasted a membership of 175 students in September. In the heat of late summer Saturday afternoons early that month, members assisted with community service by teaching grammar school students the rules of swimming safety and procedure. In order to teach, each member attended a special training session and received his Instructors' Aid Card.

Even in the cold of winter Aquatic Staff worked behind the scenes by timing, scoring, and officiating at swim meets. Water Week highlighted the year with the Panther and Junior-Senior relays, and a club splash party allowed members to use their ability for fun.

Marinette Clubbers Swim Through "Oceans of Motion"

After weeks of grueling practice sessions and last minute rehearsals, the Marinette Swim Club presented two performances for their Spring Water show "Oceans of Motion." This year's mermaids used musical excerpts from great movie epics as the framework for the show.

Work on the show began early in the year, when Mrs. Kort, the new club sponsor, and Sandy Staffa, club president, chose new marine members for their aquatic ability in water ballet stunts. Marinette also gained pre-show experience while participating in National AAU Synchronized Swim Competition held for the first time in our pool.

Ballet Slippers Set 340 Orchesis Feet A Dancin'

The tutu bounced gracefully as a young ballerina criss-crossed the satin ties of her toe shoes. After her exercises and inspection in the panelled mirrors of West's dance studio she took her place on the stage for the Annual Orchesis Dance Show. From the "Syncopatin' Boots" of the Wild West to swashbuckling "Buccaneer Buckles," the 170 Orchesis members interpreted their theme of "Shoes to Set My Feet A Dancing."

Beginning in October, the Orchesis groups met once a week to choreograph dances and design costumes for the spring dance show. After the final performance, beginning students were inducted into advanced Orchesis.

West's Library Needs Pages

Pages in the Proviso West library not only came from Oliver Twist and "Saturday Evening Post." They turned in the doors from all four classes to offer their services to librarians. The library pages were a group of 65 students—more than in any past year—who helped with odd jobs all around the library.

Volunteers relinquished study halls to fill the need for help during all seven periods. Their duties included collecting and delivering library slips, checking out books and magazines, and putting tapes and records on for listeners. With the new audio-lingual sequence in the language department this job increased in its importance.

To become better acquainted, pages held their annual Christmas party and Spring banquet. They also toured Naperville College. To close a year of hard work, pages who served 50 hours or more received certificates of merit.

Debaters Tackle Nuclear War

Fresh from summer debate institutes, the Proviso West debate team began another season. In October, the varsity qualified for the Rebuttal television series. November marked the first tournaments on the topic, Resolved: That nuclear weapons should be controlled by an International Organization.

Proviso West defended its Metropolitan Debate Union championship in January. Defense of West's sectional title highlighted February, and the season closed in April with the varsity going on its last overnight trip to the State Finals at Illinois State Normal.

Pros and Cons Provide Fuel For Driving Speeches, Debates

Membership in the National Forensics League recognized achievement in speech. Through activity in such events as prose, oration, extemp, poetry, and debate, students of Proviso West qualified for the NFL. Competition took place in a series of tournaments throughout the year.

This year competition started when the debate and individual event teams went to the Illinois State University contests and to a tournament at Rich East. After the Christmas break, during which the Christmas party was held, the season continued with a contest in Peoria. Competition climaxed with Proviso West's participation in the State speech championships. In June, the season officially ended with the annual National Forensic League banquet which featured the awarding of trophies for outstanding achievements in the fields of individual events and debate.

FTA Says Switches Must Go

Birch switches went out of style long ago; modern schools needed improved methods and modern teachers. Striving to develop the best attitudes among future teachers at West, the C. C. Taggart Club—West's chapter of Future Teachers of America—planned a year's activities to encourage students to become educators.

In a series of informal talks, members learned how slates were replaced by paper, and lectures by the Socratic method. Mr. Boyd, Mr. Jedlicka, Miss Tallman, and Miss Treadwell told of the satisfaction of teaching as a career. Mr. Rattenbury helped the Future Teachers of America to gain aid through teaching scholarships.

Faculty sponsors Miss Scala, Mr. Small, and Mr. Westerfield recognized that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy—and a dull teacher. With this in mind, they scheduled parties and travelogues for entertainment. The club ended the year with a farewell party for seniors and officer installation—"Springtime A La Carte."

MCMLXV—1965 Goes Roman

XXXII Romans of the Modern Era and their friends—enjoyed the MCMLXV ROME banquet co-sponsored by Miss Ann Farrell and Mrs. Catherine Nissim. In the spring, the banquet was held Roman style, with the togad-clad citizens and their guests reclining on couches served by volunteer slaves.

ROME citizenship is limited to Latin students or those who have completed two or more years of Latin. This banquet was the Olympian end of a year of activities, planned and presented by the members and club officials who included co-consuls, tribunes, quaestors, and aediles. These activities, going beyond the Roman ABC's, included skits, planned and performed by ROME citizens for Latin classes, providing entertainment and appreciation of our heritage in law, government, art and language. In addition, Miss Farrell's informal slides of her recent European tour brought alive the sites of Caesar's Gallic Wars for the club.

A Wave of White Caps Floods St. Joseph's and St. Frances'

The Future Nurses of America, better known as the "White Caps," under the direction of Miss Dolores Garramone and Miss Myrtle Gould, attended such activities as movies on the different duties in a hospital, a tour of St. Joseph's Hospital and an Open House for Junior and Senior members at St. Frances' Hospital. Through these tours the girls gained knowledge and further understanding of the various fields of nursing. Guest nurses and speakers were always welcomed by the girls, for they learned about a particular field directly from the person, rather than from a book.

At the annual Christmas party, the FNA alumni came to visit and to answer questions concerning their first year in nursing school. The year was climaxed by the awarding of the club pin. Each girl received a certain number of points for each sponsored activity attended, or by serving as a monitor in the nurse's office. Completion of requirements was rewarded by the presentation of a pin.

Future Business Leaders Scratch Through the Day

The whir of electric typewriters and the scratch of accountants' pencils meant Future Business Leaders of America were meeting again. Having taken courses in the business department, members used the club as a center of improvement. They practiced typing, shorthand, and a new skill—punching IBM machines. Comparison of speeds and ability scores encouraged competition which would eventually perfect skills for many hours spent on the job as secretaries, file clerks, and computer controllers.

Science Club Affiliates With National Organization

Astronomy — Chemistry — Electronics — although these subjects may terrify the average student, they offered a challenge to West's future scientists. Under the supervision of Mr. McCleary, Mr. Fischer, and Mr. Williams, the club furthered student interest in careers and experimentation in science, and encouraged seven individuals to enter projects in local science fairs. Although club members alerted West's student body to any scientific programs in the area, they concentrated on developing the organization, which is now in its second year. This was their first year of affiliation with a national organization — The Future Scientists of America.

Proviso West Takes to the Air via Radio Station W9BWV

"Calling W9BWV" was a familiar phrase to radio club members at West this year. Their school station—W9BWV—kept them busy and interested in amateur radio.

Working before and after class hours, boys practiced in order to acquire operator-licenses. Contacts came in from all parts of United States, and messages of the same frequency even came from foreign countries.

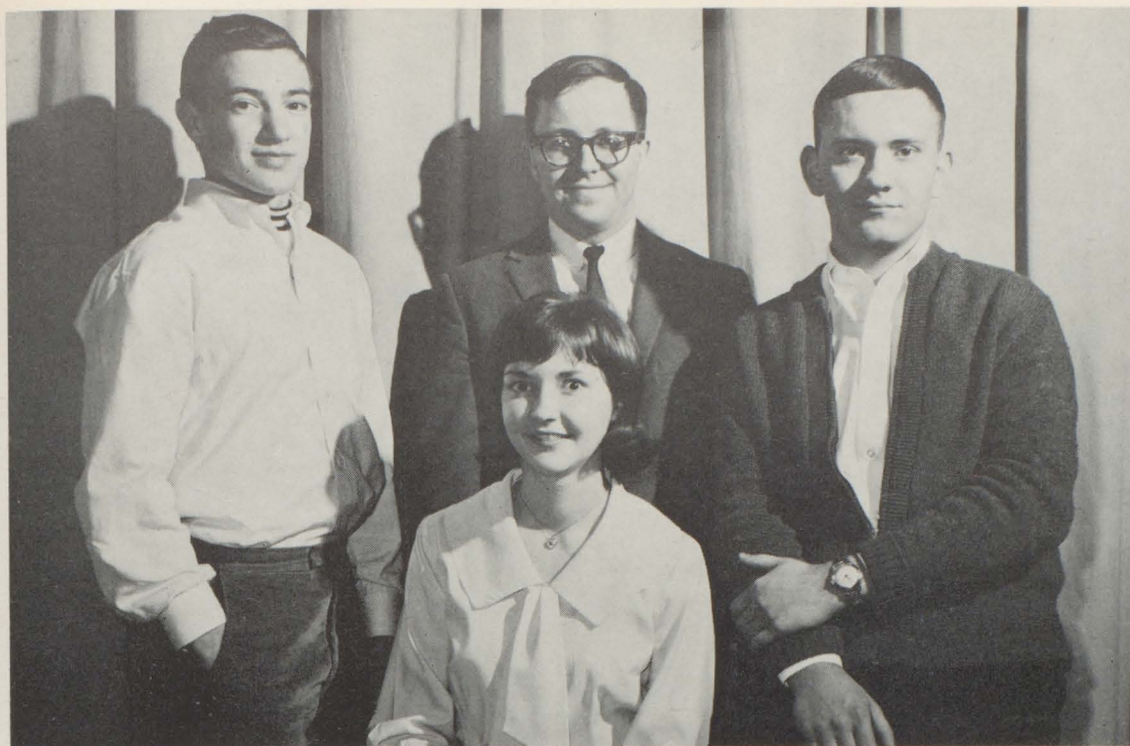

The club boasted seven general class licences this year — John Dalnas, Bob Rozetha, Marty Pauschke, Vance Smith, Norm Moment, Steven Enke, and Sponsor Dr. Appleton.

West's Math Minded Students Organize Mu Alpha Theta

To satisfy their curiosities concerning line programming, logic, and infinity, 43 students organized West's chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, the honorary high school and junior college math club. At the first initiation, the newly-elected officers, President Rita Brown, Vice-president Bob Janda, and Secretary-Treasurer Phil Davis, delivered speeches and received the club's charter. During the year, Mu Alpha Theta held seminars and hosted guest speakers.

West's "Redbook of Courage" Guides Hesitant Freshmen

At one time or another, every Proviso student has consulted his small, but lifesaving booklet, known as the Redbook. Questions ranging from "What organization should I join?" to "How can I get an early excusal?" are answered in its pages. To keep Provisoites alerted to latest rules, the Redbook is updated every two years by a competent student staff. Under the advice of Mr. Laurence Taylor, this year's staff wrote, revised, and edited the '65 edition.

Cine Club Projects Service

Cine Club, traditionally an all boy organization, had a membership ratio of 49 boys to one girl. The constitution, revised this year, not only opened the club to girls, but also included innovations such as the new training program of five older members qualified by Mr. Walli, club sponsor, to instruct new members on projector techniques. Completing their training, they passed a stiff practical exam on the 20 different types of equipment in the audio-visual department. The new projectionists then joined one of the five regular committees which handled work with the 1200 films in the Proviso film library.

"All the World is a Stage" For West's New Thespians

Inducted by the Proviso East Troupe, West's infant chapter of the National Thespian Society became West's first formal organization of dramatically inclined students. Meetings this year were concerned with getting the new club on its feet. This included the forming of standing committees, choosing committee chairmen and an historian, and writing a club constitution. The club was organized along member-apprentice lines with points for participation in dramatic productions awarded by the sponsor and clerk. An apprentice has less than ten points and becomes a voting member on receiving his tenth.

The members participated in all-school plays and also gave a production that was the club's own effort. This Drama Festival, presented in the spring, was combined with the initiation of the newly-qualified members. The aim of the organization is to improve dramatic productions at West.

West's Choruses Benefit From Work of New Directors

The enthusiastic combined efforts of West's two new choral directors, Mr. Parker and Mr. Slottag, provided West's choruses with a lively and rewarding year. Each chorus appeared twice in public with the exception of the Concert Choir which made numerous appearances. The Freshman Men's Chorus, restricted entirely to Freshmen admitted on the approval of Mr. Parker, received along with the daily satisfaction of singing, basic instruction in technique which enabled its members to move on into the more advanced groups.

Not only did each of the five choral groups work as a unit throughout the year at its appropriate level, but smaller ensemble groups of from six to twelve selected voices were regularly given more intensive instruction by the directors to refine and improve their performances.

Mr. Parker and Mr. Slottag combine efforts during a third-hour practice session of Concert Choir.

Girls' Glee Club Makes First Appearance at West This Year

An innovation this year among girls' singing groups at West was the Girls' Glee Club — thirty voices selected on the basis of their individual excellence and group balance. They made their debut in concert with the orchestra in the early winter.

Advanced Girls' Chorus is a much larger group selected by audition. Girls in this organization begin singing the more difficult selections which prepare them eventually for inclusion in Mixed Chorus or Glee Club.

The Freshman Girls' Chorus is the underlying organization from which all girls' vocal groups at West develop. Girls interested in vocal music receive the basic instruction necessary for participation in disciplined choral singing.

First Robing Ceremony Begins New Tradition in West's Choir

Sounds of the world's greatest composers echoed in the Little Theatre as the Proviso West Concert Choir opened the year with the presentation of their first robing ceremony where new members were formally inducted into the choir with a short concert following. The choir progressed with the year as the second semester brought more "firsts." Included in these were the March 5th Concert Band and Concert Choir performances followed by the annual Choir banquet in April and ending with the Spring Concert.

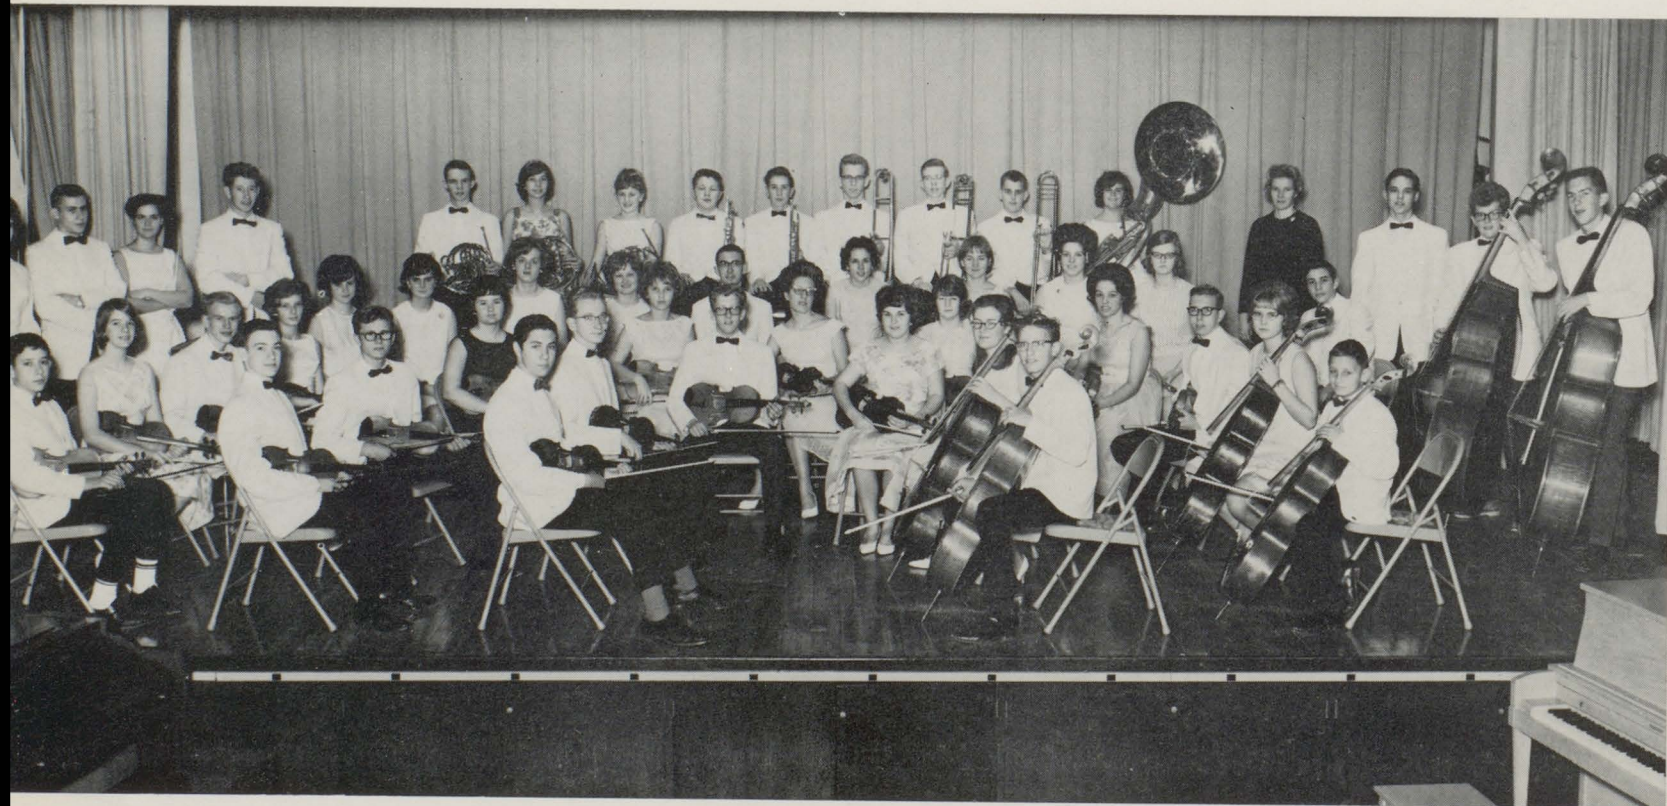

New Director, College Tour, Highlight Orchestra's Year

Better than ever this year, the Proviso West Concert Orchestra was under the new leadership of Miss Susan Sterrett. The season began with a delicious potluck dinner featuring the combined talents of West's and East's orchestra. At the end of the first semester, tryouts were held and the best musicians of both schools were placed into the newly formed Proviso Township Orchestra. Talented wind, brass, percussion, and string players enjoyed this organization to the fullest. Performances were given at PTA meetings, faculty teas, and annual concerts.

Proud parents, inspired pupils, and the enthusiastic Miss Sterrett formed a close relationship. The climax of the year was the Orchestra's tour to Northern Illinois University, where the Township Orchestra spent an entire day performing for appreciative audiences of college students.

Formal Concert to Pep Rally Band Takes All in Stride

Every day, third period, amidst the clatter of cases, stands and books, the Proviso West Concert Band assembled. Under the able direction of Mr. Carrol Simmons, the band had the opportunity to demonstrate its musical abilities during two outstanding concerts. One performance in March featured a dual appearance of the band and Proviso West Choir. At the second concert, in May, band members received a year pin, notification of scholarships and contest medals. Topping the presentation ceremony was the award to the most outstanding musician of the year.

Other band appearances were at half-time varsity football games, at pep assemblies, and the Gymnastic Extravaganza. The concert band was also featured at West's traditional Christmas assembly.

A leading competitor musically among other state bands, the Proviso band also takes active part in other school organizational activities. Band members constructed a second place float at the Homecoming, as well as performing dazzling maneuvers at the half-time festivities.

The start of summer vacation marks the beginning of Proviso West's second season of summer band. This organization rehearses throughout the summer and concludes the season with a fine concert. The summer band is open to all eighth grade graduates, as well as high school students.

Red and White Uniforms Blend With Blue Legs and Red Noses

The swish of red and white paper pom poms blended with the trumpet solo of "Cotton Candy" as Proviso Wests Pom Pon Corps took the field. For the second year the crisply dressed ladies wielded their pom poms to entertain the hundreds of spectators at the spring clinic and were tested for precision and rhythm at tryouts. Successful candidates joined with "old timers" in learning new routines for next year's games.

The appearance on the field of the Majorette Corps gave further testimony to the charm and ability of West's female population. The girls made their debut at the Homecoming game in the fall and lent color and enthusiasm to both football and basketball half-times throughout the year. Broadway rhythms or jazz melodies, the Majorettes designed their costumes to express the theme of their performances. Red silk or silver plumes were an intricate part of the program but blue legs and red noses were strictly Mother Nature's idea.

Military commands shouted in a clear bass voice signaled the appearance of yet another familiar West group. The Color Guard presented the flags of the United States and Proviso West with military discipline and dignity. The brilliant red uniforms with the solemn faces representing the blending of tradition and enthusiasm so typical of all aspects of West.

Varsity Cats Show Gridiron Strength With .500 Season

Though getting off to a slow start, the Panther Varsity gridmen, under Head Coach Don Maechtle and Coaches Ed Gilbert and Eric Yaeger, rebounded to win three of their last four games and finished the season with a 4-4 record.

For the third consecutive year, the Varsity football team shut out non-conference rival Elgin in the opening game of the season. The next week the Panthers began league play in a more balanced Des Plaines Valley League by losing to Niles West, in a hard-fought game in the rain. High point of the Homecoming victory against Willowbrook was Person's crowd-electrifying 99-yard run in the first 15 seconds. The toughest game of the season against Morton West found the Cats losing 18-0. The biggest upset of the year occurred when the West Varsity defeated Palatine 19-7 on the home field.

One of the offensive squad, Junior Steve Person, led the team in scoring and also ended the season as the third highest-scoring man in the league. Sam D'Anza, the Panther's wiry quarterback, and big Bob Smith carried the lead in the backfield, following injuries to halfbacks Dennis Jeck and Rich Parkhurst. Ends Dennis Holub and Terry Ziemke were D'Anza's targets for passes, while Bob Fish, Dave Bellis, and Paul Sindelar provided rugged blocking in the line.

Defensively, Jim Conway turned in an excellent year at end, while Juniors Kelly Caloia and Steve Zupsich did commendable jobs in the line.

Sam D'Anza, Bob Smith, Terry Ziemke, and Dave Bellis earned positions on the All-Conference team with Paul Sindelar receiving honorable mention. Sam D'Anza was voted Most Valuable Senior football player.

JV Gridmen Finish Second In Des Plaines Valley League

Coaches Don Kohlman and Bob Fulk developed a smoothly functioning Junior Varsity team which in 1964 played fine football, racking up a record of three wins, three losses and two ties, a record which enabled them to finish second in the Des Plaines Valley League.

Playing against their traditional opening rival, Elgin, the Panthers were leading 12-6 going into the last minute of play when Elgin tied the score. The following game was played at Niles in the rain. Niles scored early in the contest and kept the lead. The two outstanding games were the 46-0 route of West Leyden, and the 41-6 win over Maine South. Halfback Norm McSwain's superb running and the pass receiving of Jim Vallicelli contributed greatly to these two victories. Quarterback Terry Likens gave the best single effort in one game in which the Panthers defeated Palatine 20-19. Leading scorers on the JV squad were Jim Vallicelli, and Norm McSwain. McSwain, however, played in only the first four JV games. He was then moved up to the Varsity squad.

A crucial moment of play brings Panther gridmen to their feet.

Coach Kohlman unfolds a new plot for the downfall of the opposition.

Sophomores Are Conference Champions With 7-0 Record

Determination and enthusiasm that never faltered carried the Sophomore football squad to the Des Plaines Valley Championship in 1964. Their single loss came in the final thirty seconds of their opening contest with Elgin, a non-conference game. West's 7-0 conference record, in fact, gave the Panthers a two-game edge over second-place Morton's 5-2 tally. Averaging 30.75 points per game offensively and seven points defensively, the squad racked up a total of 246 points for the season against their opponents' 56.

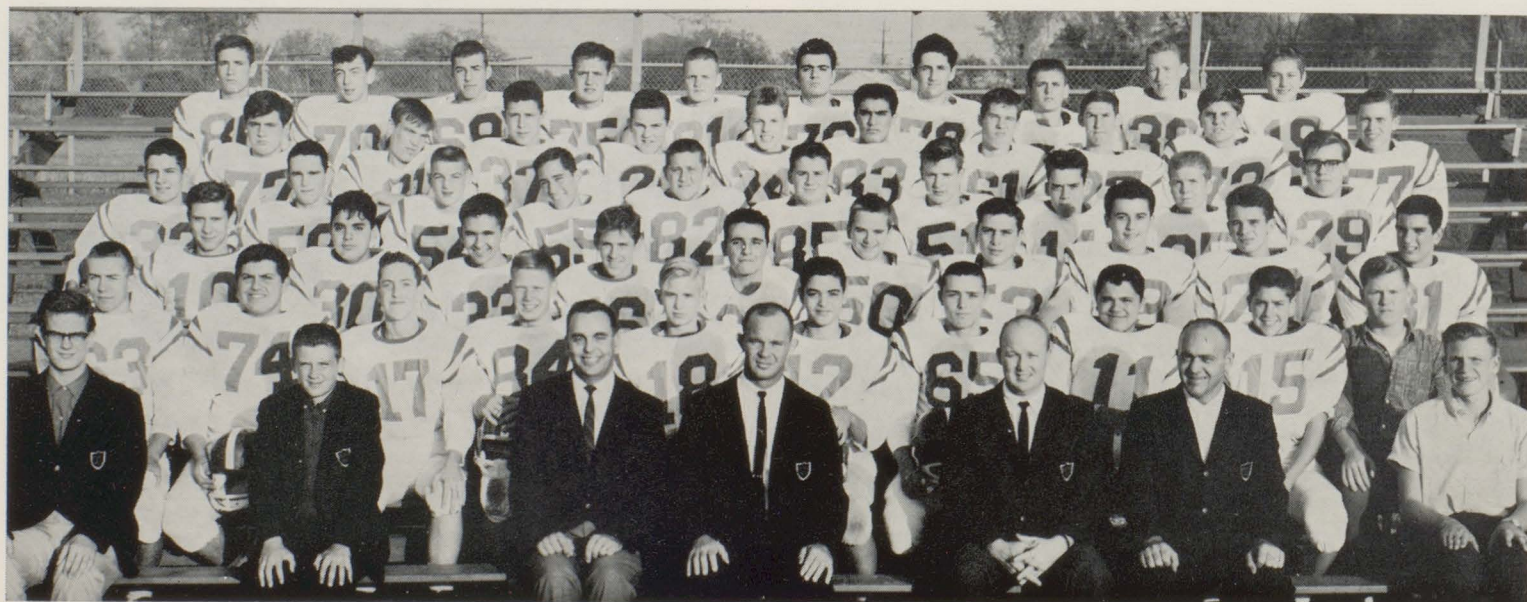

Highlights of the season included the 26-6 defeat of Niles, last year's champion, and the crushing 31-0 massacre of West Leyden, the first of the season's three shut-outs. Most hotly contested game of the season was with Willowbrook. The Willowbrook offense was halted on the twenty-yard line with two minutes left to play.

Members of the 1964 Sophomore squad will make up the major part of the first Proviso West Varsity squad to play in the West Suburban League which Proviso enters in 1966. The Sophs' performance gives promise of a creditable varsity debut for Proviso West year after next.

Identical 5-2 Records Bring Freshman A and B Squads Identical Second Place Finishes in Conferences

A balanced, hard-running ball club, the Freshman A team finished with a well-deserved conference second place. The team was defeated only by Maine South and League Champion Morton West. Victories included Niles West, West Leyden, Willowbrook, East Leyden, and Palatine. According to Coach Fioravanti, "The team had no outstanding star, but rather a galaxy of small stars. Strong passing on offense was the outstanding element in bringing the Freshman A team into second place."

The Freshman B football squad finished the season with an overall 5-2 record. The team started league play by defeating Niles West. The most outstanding game of the season was a 6-0 win over League Champion Maine South. The two games which the Panthers lost were to West Leyden and Morton West. In the West Leyden game, a Cat player fumbled the ball on his own 10-yard line. West Leyden recovered and went on to win 6-0. The little Cats also lost to Morton West as a result of their own errors. At the close of the season, fifty-five boys received awards.

Hardy Harriers Bring First State Championship to West

This year's cross-country season was the best in the history of distance running at Proviso West. The Varsity harriers, under Coach Richard McCallister, accumulated a spotless record, winning their opening meet against four other teams and going on to shut out six of their next nine opponents, making 24 wins in 24 straight dual meets. The course record was lowered twice this year by several seniors, with Craig Grant, the record holder at 9:07 for 1.95 miles. At the conference meet, in spite of tough opposition from Maine South, Palatine, and Willowbrook, the Varsity took five out of the first five places for a perfect 15 points. Then, competing in the St. Charles Invitational for the first time, West again ranked first, thus continuing their victory march. A first place finish in the LaGrange District Meet gave the team three of the four trophies they had set out for.

Fifty schools qualified for the State Final Cross Country Run and the Proviso Panthers emerged as champions on the two-mile course at the Urbana Country Club on November 7, thus crowning their perfect year of competition with an impressive low score of 46. State Individual Champion Bruce Bowman led all the runners to the chute with a fast time of 9:36.8. Proviso's medals winners were: first, Bruce Bowman; third, Craig Grant, and tenth, Jerry Mentz.

Outstanding Record Brings Frosh-Soph Conference Title

The Frosh-Soph team had their finest season yet, winning the Des Plaines Valley Conference title and the York and St. Charles Invitationals. They began their season by taking the first six places in a quadrangular meet in which they shut out Grant, Evanston, and Crystal Lake. The team encountered its toughest competition at the York Sophomore Invitational in which 16 schools participated. On the day of the York Sophomore Invitational, Coach McCallister had to split up his runners for a dual meet with Niles North. The Freshman runners lost to Niles North by a close score of 26 to 30. At the York Meet, however, the Sophomores took first place. The Frosh-Sophs won the next five contests, and secured the league championship, when they swept the Conference Meet with a low score of 19 points. They went on to win the St. Charles Invitational with a fine score of 24 points.

After Difficult Season Cats Anticipate Better Things

The future for the Panthers may not be as bleak as the one win and twenty loss season was for the team this year. The coaches this year were definitely in a building season as the squad had only five Seniors on the squad roster. Of these five only two played regularly and the Regional Tournament squad was composed of seven Junior, one Sophomore, and only two Seniors.

This season began in a far from promising fashion since only two lettermen were returning from last year's squad. To top this the squad was constantly hampered by injuries. Lack of height and experience also contributed to the poor season.

However, the season was not without honors, as Paul Zeman, Senior regular, was voted to the Des Plaines Valley All-Conference team. Zeman was also named as the Most Valuable Senior Athlete by his team members.

Jack Magiera won the Hillside Rotary Club free throw award by shooting seventy-one free throws and hitting forty-eight for a sixty-eight percent season average.

JV's Provide Varsity With Support Throughout Season

This year's Junior Varsity Squad's record of four wins and thirteen losses was no real evidence of the strength of the squad. Many of the boys on the squad were moved back and forth from this squad to the Varsity to give the Varsity support, and to give more boys valuable experience.

Each JV team in the Des Plaines Valley League is regarded as a support team to its varsity squad since both are considered one level of competition. Had the Varsity been in less of a building year, this year's JV record could well have been different.

Stand-outs on the team included Richard Beck, a center who was moved up to the Varsity at the end of the season, and Al Lindner, hot-shooting forward. Mitch Sprail, a guard, was the sparkplug and quarterback of the team.

This year's Sophomore basketball team ended the season with a respectable overall record of seven wins and six losses and a conference record of five wins and six losses. The fine conference record gave them a hard-earned fourth place in the Des Plaines Valley League. The teams in the League were equally matched which was shown by the four-way tie for first place in the middle of the season. Willowbrook was considered the only team much stronger than Proviso West and many games in the season were decided in the last few seconds. One of the most thrilling moments in the season came in a game against Morton West when in the final three seconds, Proviso beat Morton 69 to 67 on two free throws by Gary Swiech.

Dave Berent was the leading scorer until he was moved up to the JV's for the last three ball games of the season. The high scorer at the end of the season was Tim O'Brien.

Freshman A's Place Second In Des Plaines Valley League

This year's Freshman teams showed more promise perhaps than any of their predecessors. Not only did they possess some height, but both teams also came out with very promising records for the season. The Freshman A team's over-all record of eight wins and five losses gives much promise for the future, and their conference record of eight wins and three losses was good enough for a second place finish in the Des Plaines Valley League. No other Freshman team has placed this high in conference competition. Both teams hold high hopes of bettering their marks when they become the fully matured Panther Varsity.

The Freshman A team was backed by a tall rangy B squad of promising boys who had a season's record of eight wins and three losses. Every boy will be pushed for a position in the future to add to the toughness of the 1967-68 Varsity.

Gymnasts Complete 1964-65 Season, Third in Conference

The Varsity Gymnastics team ended the 1964-65 season with a record of 8 wins and 6 losses.

Young and inexperienced in the beginning of the season, hard work and persistence brought them to a third place finished in the Desplains Valley League Championship Meet—a performance which also placed them third in the conference.

Richard Chrisman, Robert Ito, Don Beltrame, Glen Mielke, Dominic Bonavolonta, and Mike Litwin all placed in the medal division of the District Championships earning them the right to compete in the State Preliminaries. In the State Finals Dominic Bonavolonta placed eleventh and Mike Litwin placed ninth.

Dominic Bonavolonta's persistent effort in practice was the key to his winning the District Parallel Bar Championship and eventually becoming the high point winner for the team.

The five top point winners for the team were: Dominic Bonavolonta with 148½ points, Robert Ito with 108½ points, Don Beltrame with 107½ points, Gary La Rocco with 98 points, and Mike Litwin with 80 points.

This year the team loses five Senior Varsity regulars. With 8 Juniors and 2 Varsity Sophomores remaining, Coach Austin has high hopes for next year's team.

The 1964-65 Freshman Gymnastics season was encouraging with a record of 3 wins and 3 losses.

This year's Freshman Gymnastics squad was the largest group of boys to come out for gymnastics at West. Though no single performer was worthy of individual recognition the level of performance for the entire group was exceptionally high.

There is some indication that this year's Freshman team is likely to be a strong contender for the 1968 State Gymnastics Championship.

The Sophomore Gymnastics team completed the 1964-65 season with a total of 7 wins, 5 losses, and 2 ties.

The team had a lot of spirit and worked hard to make the season a success. Coach Bruce Danfelter was very pleased with the outcome of the season. He cited the following boys as good prospects for next season: Fred Barrett, tumbling, Arnold Gentile on the side horse, Steve Frances and Bob Gallagher both on the trampoline, and Jerry Litwin on the parallel bar.

This year's Sophomores have good prospects for the Conference Championship in 1967.

Cat Watermen End Season With Five and Six Record

Coach Wilhelm's Varsity swimmers ended the season with a five and six record. Twenty-nine boys reported for the team, six being returning lettermen from the previous year. At the end of the season, fourteen boys received major letter awards, and four received minor letter awards. The Cat Watermen took fourteenth place out of twenty-three schools at the Riverside-Brookfield invitational. Roy Van Cleave placed sixth in the 100-yard Butterfly and Frank Joswick scored sixth in a 200-yard individual medley. In the conference meet, Roy Van Cleave set a new record in the 100-yard Butterfly. The time recorded at 1.00 won Roy a first place. Other swimmers taking first in the conference meet include Frank Joswick, and Jim Akey. Jim Akey copied a double first in two events; the 100 and 200-yard free-style. Despite the fact that the squad lacked depth, the Varsity team finished successfully.

Out of thirty boys that reported for the squad at the beginning of the season, only seven boys failed to finish or were dropped from the squad. In the Riverside-Brookfield invitational, the Sophomore Aquamen took sixth place. At this invitational, the Sophomore medley relay was composed of Randy Nelson, Tim Kobierski, Steve Lausman and Tom Jacques. The Sophomores tied for second at the conference meet with Niles West. Main South took first. Tim Kobierski set a new meet record in the 100-yard IM with a time of 56.3. Richard Pein took a first in the 300-yard freestyle. The Sophomores ended the season in third place.

Varsity and JV Grapplers Surpass Previous Records

This year's varsity wrestlers were the most successful in the short history of Proviso West. The grapplers finished second in the conference with a very satisfactory five-two win-loss record. Some of the standouts were Dana Houkel, Mike Hennessy (both All-Conference), Mike Devito (voted by teammates Most Valuable Senior Wrestler), Robert Fish,, Steve Zupsich, Bill Lipper, and Bob Alico.

The Junior Varsity Wrestling team, coached by Mr. Singer, had an excellent seven-three record — one of the finest in the short history of Proviso West. Jim Adamiec and Carl Landi went undefeated throughout the season. Seniors David Bellis, Robert Carvelli, Terry Grosshauser, Dennis Holub, and Tom Natanek also finished with fine records.

Soph Matmen Finish Strong Frosh Lag With 9-4 Record

This year's Sophomore wrestling squad, with many fine wrestlers participating, finished the season with a commendable seven and six win-loss record. Some of the stand-outs and the squad were: Dennis Carrigan who had ten pins and one point decision in thirteen matches; Bob Garson and Ken Peters who, perhaps, showed greater improvement during the season than any other members of the squad; Dennis Cessira with a 10-1 record; Marty Lovse who combined 10 wins during 12 matches, and Phil Lindberg who was 6-0 before an injury took him out of competition. The toughest match on the schedule saw Ken Peters 112-point champion in the Waukegan meet.

There was more than individual achievement, however. As one of the hardest working squads to represent West, they will provide the bulk of next year's varsity team. The entire team contributed to a very successful season.

The Freshmen wrestlers finished with a less satisfying 4-9 win-lose record. Two boys who showed real promise, however, throughout the season were Mike Butkus and Randy Cermak.

Panthers Win First Place In State District Tourney

The '65 version of the Panther Varsity nine gave evidence during their opening season play of greater strength than last year's team which produced a record of twelve victories against ten defeats. Despite the overall season record of little better than .500, the team copped third place in the Des Plaines Valley League and won the State District Tournament, sweeping aside Proviso East 7-1 and battling Elmwood Park through nine innings before eking out a 2-1 victory.

The 1965 varsity squad, characterized by good hitting, and good defense, powered its way through early competition, racking up six victories against no defeats. This early success was triggered by stellar mound performances by Panther pitchers as they turned back the opposition for twenty-two scoreless innings. A highlight of early season performance was a no-hit pitching feat by Larry Hallert against Morton West. This was, however, an abbreviated game which ended with a 0-0 score after five innings when the game was called because of rain.

West's Frosh Look Forward To a Prosperous Season

Proviso West is seeing the class of '68 baseball team for the first time this year and likes what it sees. Bad weather temporarily halted the start of the season, but as soon as the ice melted and the rain diminished the team was outside and raring to go. Freshman coach, Mr. Buchanan, expects a very prosperous season to emerge from the long nights of pain and practice the team has already put in. With hard work and much practice, Proviso West might see their Freshman baseball team high on the Desplaines Valley standing.

No-Hitter Sparks Promising Season for Soph Diamondmen

As indicated by the large scores the Freshman team of last season was strong on hitting but not too strong on defense, that is, pitching and fielding.

This year, as Sophomores, the team promises to have an improved defense due mainly to the addition of two strong hurlers, Bob Graczyk and Jerry Malina.

Bob Graczyk struck out 16 batters as the Sophomores defeated Willowbrook 2-0 and Jerry Malina pitched a no-hit, no-run game against West Leyden. The 1965 season looks very promising for this year's Sophomore team.

Panther Trackmen Capture Second in Pirate Relays

This year's Varsity track team behind Coach Griep is looking forward to another fine year. With special strength in the running department provided by distance runners Bruce Bowman, Craig Grant, and sprinters Steve Pearson and Curt Michael, this year's team promises to be one of the most exciting track teams to ever play at West. Pole vaulters Joe Viktor and Rich Kopanda are two other bright spots in the field events. Highlight of the '65 spring season was a second place finish in the Pirate Relays.

The Sophomore track team this year gives indication of being a strong Varsity team next year. During the indoor season the trackmen finished first in the Des Moines Valley League.

Ed Meyers, Frank Morgan, Steve Gortmaker, and Arv Reichs formed a strong distance combination. John Kitt and Tim O'Brien were the high and low hurdles men while Marty Lovse, Steve Peterson and Grant Hounda specialized in the 440. Shot putting and discus throwing were Pete Weinbergs, and Bill Delves, mainstay. Tom Yannias, Dennis Cesario and Craig Damian, sprinters, proved up well in competition.

Competition at practice trains John Kitt and Mike Nygren for future meets.

Varsity Takes Third Place in Des Plaines Valley League

The 1964 Varsity tennis team turned in the best performance credited to any Proviso West team to date. With eight wins to five losses during the season they finished third in the Des Plaines Valley Conference Tennis Tournament with a total of 41 points. Their third-place total was only three points behind first place Willowbrook's 44 points. Outstanding individual performances included the winning of a first place medal in third singles play by Darrel Pauls and second place medals in second doubles play by Charles Achilles and Lee Mayer. The squad included five returning lettermen from 1963.

This year's Frosh-Soph tennis team under the guidance of Coach Myers gave evidence of considerable potential. Outstanding performers included Freshman John Schwitz and Sophomores Martin Meccia, Dick Fencil, Bill Sudlow and Art Zalecki, with Ed Boehm also doing a creditable job.

Last year's Frosh-Soph squad, coached by Mr. Cryer, developed their skills throughout the season to emerge in the spring of 1965 as more formidable contenders in conference competition than their record indicated.

Varsity Goes Downstate

Last year's Varsity golf team completed the season with a record of nine wins and four losses. Proviso's linkmen won the Conference meet which gave them sufficient points to tie Niles West for first place in the league. In the District meet played at White Pines Golf Course in Bensenville, Illinois, our Varsity tied Hinsdale for first place with a team total of 305, an average of 76 per golfer, which is very superior golfing. By virtue of this first place, the Varsity linkmen earned the privilege to play in the state finals at Champaign. This was a two-day, thirty-six hole event. Proviso finished thirteenth in a field of nineteen teams, a very creditable showing. This was the first time a Proviso golf squad ever had the opportunity to play in the state finals.

The Frosh-Soph squad finished the season with an admirable six wins and four losses which gave them third place in the league.

Changing ideas, cutting off certain corners, fitting gradually into the new world of West —
these are the green years of Freshman days which ripen and burst into sunshiny Sophomorish
yellow afternoons
full of fun nights
and drivers' education.

But these years give way to the muted, bright blue of the Juniors' bow
as college and work
come a little bit closer.
There's still time enough for a quick Coke, until the time comes for the Seniors' red bow
to tell of flushed faces, caps and gowns
and tear-swollen eyes.

Ghosts Haunt Freshmen— 1965 is a "Spirited" Year

Ethereal spirits surround the Freshmen before their very first day. Apparitions of crowded halls, giant upperclassmen, and that monstrous word "Freshman" dance in young heads. Big brothers and sisters provided by Girls' League and Lettermen make the day seem more real, but yet the spirits of a new life at high school float down the corridors with provisions of fun, friends, and even hard work. The first football game against Elgin brings a new spirit to the Class of 1968 — school spirit. Joining the cheerleaders with chants of "We want another one just like the other one!" the Freshmen learn about spirit at West. Taking matters into their own hands, bold frosh unearth the ghosts of Shakespeare, algebraic formulas, and general science textbooks, buried after finals the year before. Class spirit forms at the first coke hour — "Spirit of '68!" The spirit of the "Roaring 20's" envelopes Freshmen the night of April 23rd at the class party where flappers and members of a barber shop quartet explore antiques on a colonnaded street and play ping pong behind a 1923 poolroom. The magic of the closing of the first year pulls a special rabbit out of the Freshman hat — dreams of a coming Sophomore year.

Jangled Nerves, Smiling Faces Characterize the Class of 1967

Sophomore year, that year that was supposed to bring confidence and tranquility, suddenly became a time of nervous responsibility for the smiling, nail-biting class of '67. The rigors of the Sophomore year strained even the young and stronger fifteen-year-olds. The initial terror of qualifying for Driver's Ed. over, lucky students faced the sardonic griled grin and the penetrating headlights of a white Ford. Two edgy individuals straddling the back seat found themselves jolted to the floor only to hear the fateful words, "That was the brake, wasn't it?" Still weak in the knees, Sophomores moved with trepidation into their English classes — the mandatory semester course with the harmless title "Oral Communications." Sophomores, hardly ever at a loss for words, stumbled through their first three-minute speech on that controversial topic, "Small Talk is Like a Clanging Bell." But the greatest test of Sophomore nerves came with their first date affair — "An Evening in Paris." Young men, nervously twisting telephone cords, asked their ladies out unaware the damsels had earlier trapped them at the Cupid's Island coke hour. Date time near, couples thanked their education; he for his driver's license; she for notes on small talk.

Class Spirit Wings Juniors Through an Eventful Year

In a Westchester garage lay scraps of chicken wire, crepe paper, wood and artificial grass. Junior enthusiasm had taken its toll on the building but it seemed well worth it to the Class of '66 as the float went on to cop a third place Homecoming trophy. The victory of '66 class spirit continued building happy memories throughout the school year. Junior cagers crushed their Senior counter-parts in the traditional Junior-Senior basketball game. The fighting 66'ers dunked the "Senior Serpents" unceremoniously in the Junior-Senior Swim Relays. At one point, Junior spirit rose so high it carried the entire class to the Moon Munch coke hour, sent them far out to the world of cool, espresso, and stopped time for the Junior Dance, "Night of Knights." But even the miracles of solid class spirit seldom help when there's homework due in the morning. Juniors settled down to nights of memorizing history dates, reading the adventures of Hester and Pearl for American lit., or frantically preparing a speech for public speaking. Thoughts of college and the business world crept into the corners of busy Junior minds. But one delightful obstacle remained before the class. The pride of '66 turned to anticipation of the year ahead; "A summer and we're Seniors!"

Junior Class Officers: Class Sponsor Mr. Widicus, President William Bednar, Vice-president Jean Earnest, Secretary Sharon Harr, and Treasurer Craig Mignasi.

Senior Spirit Survives Despite Trouncing in Basketball and Dunking in Swim Relays

"Rickety rickety rive — yea '65"

The call echoed through West's halls on a too hot day early in September. The class of '65 was indeed, finally, and at long last the Senior class, and wherever they went and laughed and talked the watchwords became "One more year to go." The mysterious "'65" began popping up in the strangest places — on a golf course fence, a pumpkin in Senior Circle, and even tramped solidly into the fresh snow. Seniors found themselves in positions of authority, putting on dances, building floats, and filling out an endless number of forms for the college and business worlds. Beowulf in one hand, requisitions in the other, the basic Senior vocabulary shrank to three crucial words — "get it done." With the prom, class night, and graduation itself approaching, the mixed emotions of Freshmen days again invaded the class of '65. Seniors savored the anticipation of a new world, and saddened with the knowledge that old friendships would not be a part of that world. Senior conversations in the halls were evident by the words, "This is the last time."

The Editor Reflects . . .

"Where's the dummy?" was a familiar cry around C313, home of West's "Mural makers."

Work on the yearbook began one hot day in June, '64. An idea . . .

Put together with Mr. Larry Wells of Associates Engraving Company, and Mr. Norman Semmelroth of Record Printing and Advertising Company . . . add a group of eager editors . . . season well with an equally anxious sponsor — these are the essential ingredients that produced the '65 Mural.

Staff members kept on their toes while dealing with problems that demanded immediate action — layouts to change . . .

50 "unknown" students to identify . . .

800 polka-dotted underclassmen pictures to handle . . .

copy to write and rewrite . . .

galleys and proofs to check . . .

and revisions to make.

Without the aid of Mrs. Wilma Dombrowski, our devoted business manager, and our enthusiastic and energetic advisor, Mrs. Jessie Veach, whose guidance and suggestions deserve an "All-American" rating, many of our worries would have been filed under "Mysteries." But problems popped up that even Sherlock Holmes could not have solved —

as "The Case of the Missing Grease Pencils," or "Page 54, Where Are You?"

As our deadline neared, the "vicious square," consisting of Root Studio, Mural office, engraver, and printer, continued to keep the post office in business with a seemingly endless exchange of pictures, pages, and proofs. But the day of reckoning finally came.

With a sigh of relief, the last page was sent.

And as the school year drew to a close, the 1965 Mural opened — filled with memories.
